If, when you entered your friend's house, his little boy should fill your eye with the contents of the squirt gun you gave him last Xmas, no matter what occurred afterwards, you'd feel like warming the seat of his trousers. You see the point—an impression once made is hard to rub off.

CARNIVAL WEEK

With its crowds of friends and strangers is near. Ever think of the impression the appearance of your hall might create on the minds of people who come to see you? Furnish it, make it look cosy, comfortable, inviting. The hall isn't the easiest place in the world to make look right. Come talk it over with us, it's part of our business to solve these furnishing problems for you. We have the things to do it with and the little cost would repay you ten times over.

TO CONTEST WILL OF RUSSELL SAGE.

Nephew of Late Millionaire Will Make a Fight.

Has Made Up His Mind to Get What He is Entitled to.

TROY, N. Y., July 31.—James H. Sage, a nephew of the late Russell Sage, is authority for the statement that the will of the dead millionaire will be contested. Today he made the following statement:

"I have made up my mind to get that to which, as a blood relative of Russell Sage, I am entitled, and if I don't get it, it will be because there is no legal way of doing so. I am of the opinion that during Russell Sage's last few years there was undue influence brought to bear upon him, which caused him to leave the bulk of his fortune to his wife.

"If Russell had left any children and the money had been bequeathed to them, none of the heirs would have even thought of getting more than the $25,000, but as it is, I, for one, shall make an attempt to get what I ought to have, and I don't intend to be beaten out of it either. I do not know what the other heirs intend doing, nor do I care. I understand, however, that Mrs Elizabeth Geer, of New York, will also contest the will. My case is in the hands of Hon. Edgar T. Brackett, of Saratoga, and any further information as to what will be done must come from him."

NO OFFICERS ON THE STREET CARS

Conditions at New Bedford Becoming Normal.

Striking Trolley Men Still Cling to Demands.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 31.—It was a week ago today that the carmen's strike was inaugurated, and since the first day conditions have grown more normal each day. There are no officers on the cars today, and hereafter their services will be required by the company only during the night until the customary quietness eigns once more. The riding on the early morning cars was much better in point of numbers.

Peter Miller, a strike-breaking conductor, was fined $15 today for carrying a concealed weapon, and was afterwards dismissed from the company's service.

The provision clerks have chartered cars for clerks' day tomorrow, when all the market men and grocers close their places of business.

This morning the situation was virtually at a standstill, the railway officials operating cars about on the usual schedule with the aid of strike-breaking motormen and conductors brought from other cities, while the union men steadfastly clung to their demand for a wage increase and recognition of the union, and refused to consider the situation as adjusted by the action of the company in filling their places.

The announcement made early in the day that W. D. Mahone, the international president of the Amalgamated Carmen's Union would arrive tomorrow to take charge of the strike, served to imbue the men with new confidence, and there was no talk of concessions to the company at the early morning meeting at union headquarters.

The company announced that cars would be run on all lines according to the regular schedule today, as has been done for the past few days, and that the police guard would be dispensed with during the daylight hours. The decrease in stone throwing and other forms of violence has made it unnecessary to continue the practice of having a policeman on each car.

DENIES DISAGREEMENT.

Mrs. Harry Thaw Says She is on Best of Terms With Mother-in-Law.

NEW YORK, July 31.—"I wish you would deny the stories sent out yesterday about the falling out between Harry's mother and myself," said Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, when she visited the Tombs prison to see her husband today. "It is an infamous lie," she continued. "We are the best of friends, both working for Harry's best interest."

Mrs. Thaw was asked about the report that Thaw and his mother had disagreed over the method of conducting his defense.

"You may deny that, too, if you want to" replied Mrs. Thaw. "It is not true. As far as I know they are getting along famously."

Mrs. Harry K. Thaw was joined at the prison by Roger O'Mara, the Pittsburg detective, and the two went together to visit Thaw in his cell.

Three witnesses who offered voluntarily to tell what they knew about the Thaw case, were examined today by Assistant District Attorney Garvan. One of them is said to be a nurse employed in a sanitarium in this city where Evelyn Nesbit was a patient, and where both Harry K. Thaw and Stanford White are said to have visited her.

RUSSIAN CABINET NOW AGREED UPON

Several Octoberist Liberals Accept Office.

Government Alarmed by Rebels' Preparations.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—The promises of liberal reforms with which Premier Stolypin is deluging the semi-official papers are accepted by the Rech today as evidence of dismay in upper government circles over the ominous but silent preparations in the opposition camp. The paper says:

"Consternation has been produced by the fact that the government is already beginning to understand that its easy victory was more apparent than real. It would have been less frightened had it been compelled to immediately resort to machine guns and bayonets."

It is understood that the question of the re-organization of the cabinet is likely to be decided at a conference between the emperor and Premier Stolypin today. The premier has already started for Peterhof. A number of former Octoberists, who declined to sign the Viborg manifesto, have now constituted themselves into a party for the peaceful reconstruction of the ministry. Premier Stolypin agreed tentatively to certain conditions which they proposed, and thereupon a number of the Octoberist liberals offered to accept office in the cabinet.

At a late hour this afternoon Premier Stolypin issued a statement through the St. Petersburg news agency to the effect that the assignment of the unfilled portfolios has not as yet been entirely decided upon. This may postpone an announcement of the new cabinet for several days, but it is accepted as a fact that the cabinet has been virtually agreed upon and approved by the emperor.

The police today captured at a lodging house five of the principal members of the executive committee of the Social Revolutionists. The men were awaiting the arrival of their colleagues, preparatory to holding a full meeting of the committee.

A machine gun was stolen last night from an arms factory in the Vassili Ostrov district. It is suspected that the robbery was committed with the connivance of the sentinels on duty at the factory.

Meetings of workmen, which are being addressed by revolutionary orators, are being held nightly in secret, in the industrial section of St. Petersburg. At the meeting of the employes of he Pytiloff works last night a spy was discovered among hose present. He was killed by the men attending the meeting.

MAY CAUSE A HOLY WAR.

Fierce Conflict Between Armenians, Tartars and Russians.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—The fierce war raging in the Caucasus between the Armenians, Tartars and Russians, especially near the Persian frontier, is assuming threatening dimensions. There is considerable apprehension that it may cause the outbreak of a Holy War, for which a serious agitation has been in progress both among the Shiite and Sunnite Tartars for a long time past.

The news from Borissovka, in Kursk provinci, is quite alarming, but it is not clear from the meagre despatches exactly what has happened. It is only stated that General Ledvinoff, who has arrived there with rapid-fire guns, posted them in a monastery on a hill overlooking the city, and sent in word that if all the arms we re not delivered up to him by 4 o'clock this afternoon he would open fire, indicating that the city is in the hands of revolutionists.

Private letters from Northern Lithuania say that the peasants in the region around Kovno have ceased to work, and that the grain has begun to rot in the fields. The landlords and their families, who are afraid to venture out unarmed, are compelled to take care of their own stock.

TO EXPEL FOREIGN WORKMEN.

Attempt of Russians at Glass Works Frustrated by Troops.

YEKATERINOSLAV, Russia, July 31.—For the first time a distinct foreign sentiment is manifested among the Russian workmen here. The recent attacks on the three foreign managers of works here were followed by an attempt yesterday of three Russians employed at the Belgian glass works at Konstantinovka to expel about 50 forigners, chiefly firemen and engineers. They were only prevented from so doing by troops. It is feared that the attempt will be renewed. Many of the foreigners are afraid to go to their work.

GENERAL STRIKE DECLARED.

Said to Have Been Proclaimed by Socialist Workmen of Finland.

STOCKHOLM, July 31.—The socialist workmen of Finland are reporter to have proclaimed a general strike.

Three Russian Churches Robbed.

MOSCOW, July 31.—Three churches in this province were robbed during the night.

are made with many more gores than are practicable in cheaper garments. This feature enhances their fitting qualities. Each pair is cut by hand and sewed by hand.

All the stays (except the front steel) are pure whalebone, which is exceedingly scarce and has advanced more than five times its former price within the past five years.

Whalebone is extremely light so that the whaleboned corset never weighs as much as a steel-boned garment of the same durability. Whalebone doesn't prick through the material. It does not break and cut the cloth. It is not affected by bodily heat and therefore does not rust the fabric.

Superior in quality, fit and style to much more costly imported corsets.

Made in so many models that we can guarantee you a custom-shop fit.

There is no high-grade corset in existence possessing any true merit unless boned with genuine whalebone, all substitutes used in place of whalebone lessens the cost of the corsets as well as its wearing qualities No matter how many times you have been disappointed in other makes of corsets call here and consult Mme Dean, the New York Corset Specialist, who has a thorough knowledge of all the different corsets made and who will frankly tell you what make is best adapted to your figure.

CONDUCTOR CARRIES FIREARMS.

Strike-Breaker Arrested on Charge of Having Concealed Weapons.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 30.--Although the present street car strike has continued more than a week, with more or less rioting, the first display of firearms was made tonight, when Peter Miller, a strike-breaker conductor on the Acushnet avenue line, flourished a revolver in the faces of a crowd of men and boys who had bombarded his car with rocks.

The crowd, at first dismayed, drew back, and then the attack became more vicious. The conductor was in imminent danger when the police, who had been summoned to his aid, arrived on the scene. They dispersed the mob and placed Miller under arrest. He is charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Superintendent Potter of the railroad company expressed himself as gratified with the action of the police, as explicit orders had been given to the railroad employes not to carry weapons of any sort.

Later there was another evidence of disorder on Purchase street, when a car was stoned. Almost every window was smashed, but as there were only two passengers aboard the flying glass found few targets. One man was slightly cut.

The attack was a determined one, and although the car was under guard of Deputy Sheriff P. G. Wing, the mob surged close to the tracks. When the bombardment halted a moment Wing leaped from the platform of the car and attempted to place some of the members of the crowd under arrest. He was unable to do so, however, although he pursued the ringleaders for some distance.

Another mass meeting under the auspices of the Central Labor Union was held tonight for the purpose of giving a demonstration of sympathy with the strike. Among the speakers were D. P. Fitzgerald, organizer of the Carmen's Union; Second Vice President P. F. Sheehan of the Amalgamated Carmen's Association; Samuel Ross, secretary of the Spinners' Union; Benjamin Sykes, president of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, and John Bintcliffe, president of the Weavers' Union.

A policeman rode on each car of the Purchase street line today as guard, but none of the other lines was thus guarded. The Purchase street line runs through crowded districts of the city, where there are homes of cotton mill operatives and others supposed to be of union sympathies, and fear of disturbances along the line has led to the retention of the police guard there when other lines have been left unguarded.

In court today the case of Motorman James A. Parker, whose car ran down and fatally injured Henry Jolicoeur, last night, was continued until Aug. 13, under bonds of $2,000, which were furnished by Henry H. Crapo, President of the New Bedford trolley companies. Jolicoeur, who suffered fracture of the skull, died today of his injuries. Parker, the motorman, is one of the strike-breakers who was brought to the city from New York.

Several other cases growing out of the strike came up in the local court this afternoon [illegible] umber of persons arrested on Saturday night on charges of disturbing the peace, were found guilty and fined.

CHARGED WITH TREASON.

Members of Douma Who Signed Viborg Manifesto.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 30.--The public prosecutor has started proceedings against the members of the lower house of Parliament who signed the Viborg manifesto. The charge under which the signers of the manifesto will be brought to trial is violation of article 129 of the criminal code, which provides for "attempts to overthrow the existing government." This is virtually high treason, the maximum penalty for which is hard labor in the mines.

The Constitutional Democrats do not anticipate anything approaching punishment of their representatives. The Constitutional Democrats are chiefly apprehensive that the possibility of prosecution held over the heads of their leaders will render them ineligible for re-election, in the same manner that Professor Mulokoff, M. Hessen and others were excluded from the last lower house.

Many of the Socialist and Radical ex-members are now living under cover in the houses of friends in St. Petersburg or have gone into hiding in the provinces. A correspondent of the Associated Press today met two prominent peasant ex-deputies who had cut off their luxuriant hair and beards and who could be scarcely recognized in this guise.

The motive of the government for abandoning its attitude not to prosecute the signers of the Viborg manifesto, as set forth recently by Premier Stolypin in the interview, is not stated, but evidently it was influenced by the need of doing something to counteract the effect of the Viborg address. This has attained an enormous circulation in the provinces, in spite of the greatest efforts on the part of the administration to prevent its publication.

The government doubtless also desired to check the perfect flood of other manifestos which the radical members of the late house are putting forth in connection with the revolutionary organizations.

The following nominations have been made for the cabinet of Premier Stolypin: Count Heyden, Comptroller of state; Prince Lvoff, minister of agriculture; Koni, minister of justice, Vinogradoff, minister of public instruction.

The seizure of the Bousset printing plant here by armed revolutionists for the purpose of getting out copies of the Viborg address was duplicated today in Yekaterinoslav, but it is believed this forcible occupation of printing offices is merely a bit of amateur theatricals arranged between the proprietors of the establishment and revolutionists to save the former from responsibility.

A manifesto to the peasants of Russia has been issued in the joint names of all the various labor, Socialist and revolutionary organizations, including the representatives of the organizations in the defunct house. This manifesto declares that the hopes reposed in the lower house of Parliament have been blasted by the diabolical designs of the crowd by grand dukes, courtiers and wealthy landed proprietors assembled around the Emperor whose only purpose is the maintenance of their power over the people.

By dispersing the elected representatives of the people and arresting and imprisoning them, says the manifesto, the government has declared war on the nation, and a struggle is beginning in which rivers of blood will flow and for which the criminal government is responsible. The people must not spare the government.

This manifesto further accuses the government of betraying the fatherland by involving the aid of German and Austrian troops. The people are therefore urged to remove the local authority everywhere, to replace it with men elected by themselves and to confiscate all state funds. The troops also must conform to the orders of those elected by the people. The workmen in the towns, the peasantry and all toilers must, in conjunction with the troops, seize the liberty and take the land which the government has denied them. The land thus possessed must be handed over to the popularly elected local authorities, pending the elaboration of a new land law.

The manifesto calls for elections on the basis of universal suffrage, and concludes with the words: "Down with the Government and the Emperor. Long live the Dear and Free Russian People."

THAW STILL OPPOSES MOTHER.

Open Break Between Mrs. Thaw and Prisoner's Wife.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Mrs. William Thaw went to the Tombs today to make a final plea to her son, Harry Thaw, that he come over to her view and accept the advice of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonynge in preparing his defense for the killing of Stanford White. Thaw wouldn't budge from his attitude that his killing of White was justified, and his wife stood by him and opposed the entreaties of his mother. As a result there was a break between Mrs. Thaw and her daughter-in-law—the first open one since she returned from Europe—and when Mrs. Thaw left the Tombs she deliberately snubbed Mrs. Harry Thaw.

When Mrs. Thaw got to the Tombs she at once renewed the pleas she has been making to her son for a couple of weeks that he accept the view that the killing of White was an insane act. Thaw showed the same stubbornness in resisting and opposing his mother's advice that has been his habit on every occasion when Mrs. Thaw or anyone else has argued with him. It is said that today he was even more vehement, and when his wife openly sided with him, he practically said that he didn't want to bother any more on the subject.

PLEA FOR ASSISTANCE MADE.

Inhabitants of Zion City Facing Hunger and Want.

ZION CITY, Ill., July 30.—Hunger and actual want has invaded this community, which the "Prophet" Dowie declared at the time of its foundation was to be the most prosperous city on the globe and the ultimate centre of civilization and Christian culture. John C. Hately, receiver for the Zion City industries, today issued an appeal for aid in behalf of the sufferers. The appeal is addressed primarily to the moneyed believers, but no contributions will be spurned. The situation is really pitiable, and the necessity for outside assistance is imperative.

Having given up most of their earthly wealth to the church, the greater part of the inhabitants here are underfed and insufficiently clothed. The land in which they invested so hopefully practically is worthless under existing conditions, and prompt relief is needed. With the waning of summer the suffering is certain to increase, and Receiver Hately is decidedly anxious.

GENERAL WAR ON FLIES.

Pests Said to be Responsible for Cholera in Philippines.

WASHINGTON, July 30.--The outbreak of cholera in the Philippines is due to the unusual number of flies in the islands, according to advices received from Dr. Heiser, the head of the bureau of health in the islands. Dr. Heiser is urging a general war upon the pests, which are said to be worse in all parts of the Philippines than they have been for years.

URGES FRANCHISE FOR NEGRO.

Rev. Mr. Gunner's Address at the Niagara Movement Meeting in Providence.

A special meeting was held last evening at the Pond Street Colored Baptist Church in Providence, under the auspices of the Niagara movement, for the uplifting of the American negro, which is headed by Professor W. E. B. DuBois of the University of Atlanta. A small audience was present to listen to addresses explaining the scope and purpose of the movement. The speakers were Rev. Byron Gunner, state representative of the movement; Rev. Joseph W. Holly of Macon, Ga., and Rev. John L. Davis, pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church of Providence and local secretary of the movement. Rev. Zachariah Harrison, pastor of the church, presided.

The opening address was delivered by Rev. Mr. Gunner, who prefaced his remarks by declaring that he was among those of his people who are tired of hearing about the race problem, and wish they could be interested in something else, but who are convinced that under present conditions their wish is an impossible one. He then proceeded to outline the place and purpose of the Niagara movement among influences working for the advancement of the colored people, saying that it arose from a realization among observant men of the race that in spite of the progress made by the negro in recent years his actual condition in this country is steadily growing more unfavorable. The Niagara movement, he said, rose to supply a need not met by any existing organization, the need for a movement free from partisan and party influences, and seeking more than the mere education of the negro.

Mr. Gunner told of the organization of the movement at a meeting held in Buffalo, N. Y., a little more than a year ago. Its cardinal aim he declared to be "an uncompromising demand for equal rights as American citizens. The right of franchise is the first of rights," he asserted. "If it were a question of losing my life or my ballot I would as soon yield up one as the other. This is my estimate of the franchise. This is the white man's estimate."

The speaker then read the pledge of the Niagara movement, called the Garrison pledge, in memory of William Lloyd Garrison, whose maxims largely furnished its phraseology. The practical method of operation proposed by the movement, he explained, was resistance to injustice in the courts and by the use of financial resources.

"It's money that counts in this country, not justice," the speaker asserted. "If you have money you can do anything you please. I, for one, do not believe in accepting money from the white man with one hand and fighting him with the other."

In answer to a question Rev. Mr. Gunner explained that the Niagara movement was not in opposition to the work being done by Booker Washington. Its organizers are merely convinced of the greater need for work in other lines. He defined the spirit of the Tuskegee movement as "Work and aspire," that of the Niagara movement as "Aspire and work."

HAILSTORMS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Hailstones as large as hen's eggs are a common phenomenon in South Africa. Summer thunderstorms often bring a terrific shower of hail. These crash through corrugated iron, destroy vineyards and kill whole flocks of sheep and goats. After such a storm has passed—they generally go over a narrow strip of country—the veldt looks as if it had been devastated by a fire or a swarm of locusts.

TO STOP PAYMENT ON BONDS.

Temporary Injunction Issued Against Secretary of Treasury.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—On the application of the United States attorney for the District of Columbia, Justice Gould today directed that a temporary injunction issue against the Secretary of the Treasury to prevent the payment on 25-one thousand dollar bonds presented by Henry Clews & Co. The government represented that these bonds, which were two years overdue, were offered by Henry Clews & Co. for Anson M. Bangs, who, it is stated in the petition, was in some way connected with the transactions of John F. and William T. Gaynor, the former of whom was convicted with Benjamin D. Greene, at Savannah, Ga., of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with river and harbor contracts.

DIES AT AGE OF 112 YEARS.

Attributes Long Life to Simple Method of Living.

LA PORTE, Ind., July 30.—Mrs. Ferdinand Reese, the oldest woman in Indiana and perhaps in the United States, died here today, aged 112 years. According to documents in her possession she was born in Volgravilz, Poland, in 1794. She came to America in 1870.

In 1812, when Napoleon invaded Russia, she saw the French emperor. On her death bed she recalled the circumstances of his visit to Volgravilz, which he devastated. She attributed her long life to her simple method of living. She had two meals of corn bread and black coffee daily.

GROWTH OF TRUST COMPANIES.

Annual Statement Shows Gain in Resources of $13,000,000.

These Institutions Rapidly Absorbing the Financial Business of Old-Time Savings Banks.

That by rapid strides the trust companies of the state are absorbing the financial business of the old-time savings banks is again forcibly demonstrated by the annual statements of both forms of institutions. Deputy Insurance Commissioner Felix Hebert has completed the compilation of these estimates as made to the state, and the totals show that the savings banks have fallen off about $50,000 in the matter of resources, while the trust companies, on the other hand, have increased their resources by over $13,000,000. The number of depositors in the savings banks fell short of last year by 480, while the trust companies enjoyed an increase of over 21,000. The general deposits of the trust companies jumped from $40,031,766.62 to over $44,000,000, and a couple of million dollar increase featured the business of the savings banks.

Of the savings banks, the Coddington Savings of Newport went into liquidation and the Bristol Institution for Savings and the Westerly Savings also liquidated their assets. The totals of the 29 savings banks showed a falling off in the amount of stocks, the bank items dropping from about $900,000 to $798,773.17, the railroad stocks falling off about $12,000, and the manufacturing stock holdings dwindling from about $192,000 to $172,750. These banks, however, increased their holdings in government bonds from $1,275,729.79 to $1,284,088.19, and took up enough extra state bonds to allow of an advance of nearly $100,000. The loans on personal security advanced from $3,842,505.44 to $5,074,617.06. The Providence Institution for Savings figured in the slight advances in the savings bank business, the amount of its deposits advancing from about $18,000,000 to over $19,000,000.

The Union Trust Company was the trust company which advanced its total resources the most, the taking over of the Manufacturers Trust being assigned as a reason for it. The Union Trust had its resources swelled from $16,006,232.69 to $31,222,693.69, the Industrial Trust added about $4,000,000 to last year's resources of $46,350,373.53, and about a million advance was negotiated by the Hospital Trust Company, whose total resources this year are $29,763,320.64. The total deposits of the Industrial Trust also made an advance from about $36,000,000 to $42,504,088.61, the Union Trust from about $14,000,000 to nearly $29,000,000, and the Hospital Trust from about $25,000,000 to $26,921,839.89. The Industrial made no increase in its capital stock of three millions, neither did the Hospital Trust advance its capital stock of $1,000,000, but the Union advanced its capital from $100,000 to $500,000.

Official returns show that the Industrial Trust Company this year had 35,881 depositors, as against 32,763 for last year; the Hospital Trust had 5,081 depositors as against 4,531 last year, while the Union Trust now has over 32,000 as against 14,017, the number recorded last year.

Among the interesting statistics which Mr. Hebert has compiled with the assistance of his clerks in such record time, the final date of filing the statements being only a week ago, there are some which reflect the life of the financial institutions of the state. Back in 1853 there were but 12 savings banks, with total deposits of only about $3,000,000. In 1875 the number of banks had increased to 38 and the deposits to over $51,000,000. Back in 1893 the number of banks began to fall off, there then being but 35, representing about $69,000,000 in deposits. This year there are but 29 such banks.

The growth of the trust companies however, has been phenomenal. In 1869, when the first one started, there was but $151,000 of deposits. In 1887 there came another one and the deposits then registered over $4,000,000. In 1902 eight were doing business, with deposits of over $28,000,000, while now there are 13, with deposits ranging beyond $60,000,000.

The total resources of the trust companies of the state in 1905 was $115,471,384.82 and in 1906, $128,012,263.14; the number of companies in 1905, 20, and in 1906, 14; the number of depositors in 1905, 84,519 and in 1906, 106,237.

The total resources of the savings banks of the state were $70,016,947.88 in 1905 and $69,957,698.47 in 1906, the number of banks in 1905 was 31 and in 1906 29; the number of depositors in 1905 in the banks was 123,688, and in 1906 123,208.

ADDRESS BY DR. TRUEBLOOD.

Young People's Societies of Three Denominations Gather at East Greenwich for Week's Stay.

The routine sessions of the Narragansett Assembly at East Greenwich Academy began yesterday. This is a gathering of representatives of the societies of young people of the Methodist, Congregational and Baptist denominations, under the auspices of the Epworth League, Christian Endeavor and Young People's Union. These young people from various parts of the state, with representatives from Connecticut and Massachusetts, have planned to combine a week's study of religious topics with a pleasant outing in an attractive town.

The visitors were accorded a reception and recognition social Saturday evening, which was participated in by some of the townspeople. At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon a campers' gathering was addressed by Rev. A. E. Legg, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church of Providence, and Sunday night a union service at the First Baptist Church was addressed by Benjamin F. Trueblood, LL. D., of Boston, secretary of the American Peace Society.

Dr. Trueblood gave an interesting account of the international peace movement since its inception 90 years ago in all its various phases, of the International Peace Congress, Interparliamentary Union, the International Law Association and The Hague Peace Conference. "Very little of these movements," he said, "can be found in any history, and yet the agitation has resulted in the consummation of no less than 41 international arbitration treaties by various nations of the world." In closing the speaker cited as recent accomplishments the peaceful separation of Sweden and Norway, and the solution of the Alsace-Lorraine problem of France and Germany.

The sessions yesterday were as follows: 8:30 a. m., morning prayers; 8:45 a. m., mission study, W. E. Witter, D. D., and Mabel E. Brooks, A. B., instructors; 9:45 a. m., personal work, S. M. Sayford, instructor; 10:45 a. m., Bible study, F. J. McConnell, Ph. D., instructor; 11:45 a. m., platform meeting with address by a member of the faculty; afternoon for recreation; 7-8 p. m., conferences; 8 p. m., platform meeting with addresses, the speakers including Rev. Frank Rector, D. D., of Pawtucket.

POLO SEASON OPENS.

Myopia Third Wins First Game for the Freshman Cups at Narragansett Pier.

The polo season opened at Narragansett Pier yesterday, when the first match in the tournament at the Point Judith Country Club went to Myopia Third by a very close margin over the New Haven team. The game was the first for the Freshman cups, which are open to teams of four, with no member to have a handicap exceeding two goals. By handicap New Haven allowed Myopia one goal, which gave the latter the game by a score of 6 to 5.

The New Haven men made a good stand in the first period, but in the next two their aim was less accurate and they defended their goal poorly, thus allowing Myopia to get a lead. At the end of the third period Myopia had scored three goals. New Haven, however, made an aggressive fight in the final period and the good work of Grace in riding off and the effective shots of Goodwin came very near giving them the game.

There was a good attendance for the opening day considering the weather, which was very threatening, but the field was very soft, owing to the heavy rain of the early morning.

The teams and handicaps were as follows:

New Haven—W. R. Grace, R. C. Keeney 1, C. P. Dixon, 2d, 2, W. L. Goodwin, 1; total, 6.

Myopia—L. Rumsey 0, H. Tweed 2, D. Rogers 2, G. G. Amory 1, total 5.

Score—Myopia, 6; by goals; New Haven, 4 by goals and 1 by handicap; total 5.

PERSONALS.

....Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the president of the United States Steel Corporation, was awarded a divorce in the second district court of Nevada, sitting at Reno, yesterday. The case was submitted without argument and the jury took but one ballot. The jury was out but a few minutes. Mrs. Corey was given the custody of her 16-year-old son, Allan Corey. No evidence was submitted by the defense and there was no argument.

....Second Lieutenant John Jacob Astor, son of William Waldorf Astor, yesterday gallantly rescued a trooper of his regiment, the First Life Guards, from drowning in the River Thames. Lieutenant Astor's troop was engaged in swimming practice, when a trooper's horse got into difficulties in midstream and kicked his rider. The latter sank in deep water and young Astor dived in and brought up the soldier in time to enable him to be restored to life.

....Postmaster Woods of Louisville has officially notified the acting postmaster general of the death in that city of John Dedrick Strassburg, a clerk in the Louisville postoffice, who was reported to be the oldest postal employe in the United States, and possibly in the world. Strassburg was 88 years of age last June. He was born in Hanover, Germany, June 2, 1818, and came with his parents to America in 1851. He was appointed a clerk in the Louisville postoffice March 6, 1843, during the administration of President Tyler and was in continuous service as a clerk in that office for more than 63 years. During that time he served under 16 different administrations. Mr. Strassburg, as the oldest clerk in the service, had his picture submitted in the display of the Postoffice Department, beginning with the world's fair at Chicago in 1893.

....A handsome memorial window of General Thomas "Stonewall" Jackson was unveiled in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church (negro) at Roanoke, Va., yesterday. The window was erected by the pastor, Rev. L. L. Downing, the money for its purchase coming wholly from negroes. The exercises were largely attended by both races, the Confederate camps of Roanoke and Salem and the chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy of the same places being well represented. Mr. Downing's father and mother were members of a Sunday school class of negro slaves taught by Jackson at Lexington before the war. The picture presented on the window is that of an army camping on the banks of a stream, the inscription underneath being Jackson's last words, "Let us cross over the river and rest in the shade of the trees."

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

So many members of Portsmouth Grange being relatives of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Anthony, the meetings will be suspended through the month of August and the program will be retained for September 6, which was expected to be given August 2.

Mrs. George Hulin of Newport, with a party numbering 14, took supper at the Glen Street Tea House Sunday evening. Mr. Thomas Seabury and a party of eight were guests at the tea house a few evenings ago.

Mrs. Clara E. Dennis was guest of Mrs. Jacob Almy Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. B. Mott is quite ill.

A clothesline thief last night took 10 pairs out of 30 pairs of stockings from a line in a dooryard on Sprague street. Owing either to the darkness or want of discrimination on the part of the thief, none of them were mates. It is hoped that the thief will bring them back or come and get the mates. The case has been put into the hands of Town Sergeant Owen Reilly.

AUTHORSHIP EASILY SETTLED.

A fine bit of dramatic criticism appeared recently in a country paper of Indiana. A rather immature tragedian played "Hamlet" there and the next day the editor said: "Mr. Soandso and his company played 'Hamlet' in the town hall last night. It was a great social event and all the elite of our fair village attended. There has been a long discussion as to whether Bacon or Shakespeare wrote the play commonly attributed to Shakespeare. It can be easily settled now. Let the graves of the two writers be opened. The one who turned over last night is the author."

A Graceful Mode.

The all-enveloping type of wrap is the one that is most favored for motor wear, and there are many arguments to support the choice. When the garment is ordered of some or another of those waterproof cloths—they make them nowadays so that one cannot tell that they are in any way different from cloths not so finished—then it is both smart and serviceable at the same time. The lure of line and cut is by no means passed by in those modish garments in which mondaine goes a-touring. On the contrary, its effect upon alighting is about the first thing that the designer takes into consideration, and while all the earmarks of a motor garment are present, they are not obtrusively so.

The design of the picture is one that will commend itself to many types of taste. The material is a pretty shade of fawn griffonette cleverly touched up with applications of black satin and a little, a very little, gold braid. Although the garment is a one-piece affair, the impression is that of a corselet skirt topped by a short and loose bolero. Strappings of the goods, with little pipings and tabs of black satin define the waist and hip lines, and a belt is passed through the strappings to encircle the waist. The Alpine hat finds itself once more in use for touring purposes. When draped with one of the regulation veils its somewhat hard lines are eliminated, and since it is expected to set well on the head without the intervention of bandeau or cache-peigne it is perhaps better suited to its purpose than some other models that have been recently tried. For one thing, it is a model that when at all becoming it is tremendously so, and doubtless the autumn month will see it generously used in the lighter weight felts.

THE CLOCK WILL TICK IT AWAY.

[Nixon Waterman, in Success Magazine.]

'Mid the many tasks the years impose
Come blithe and blissful times,
And strewn through a world of vapid prose
Are ripples of restful rhymes.
But the joys we deem the dearest seem
The shortest in their stay,
For we never can greet a day so sweet
But the clock will tick it away,
Away.
The clock will tick it away.

But if pleasure must hurry so quickly past,
Then sorrow must do the same,
And a word of praise is sure to last
As long as a word of blame.
And there's never a night so void of light
But it wakes to a golden day.
For we haven't a grief so broad or brief
But the clock will tick it away,
Away.
The clock will tick it away.

"Sir," said the angry female, "I understand you said I had a face that would stop a street car in the middle of the block."

The rich hostess on the lawn of her beautiful farm was catechising the little country weekers from the slums.

"Repeat it, then, please."

"Keep off the grass," shouted the urchin confidently.

This is the way a Colorado bachelor poetically lays a bouquet at the feet of his best girl: "There is gladness in her gladness when she's glad; there is sadness in her sadness when she's sad. "Medicine won't help you any," the doctor told his patient. "What you need is a complete change of living. Get away to some quiet country place for a month. Go to bed early, eat more roast beef, drink plenty of good, rich milk, and smoke just one cigar a day."

A month later the patient walked into the doctor's office. He looked like a new man, and the doctor told him so.

"Yes, doctor, your advice certainly did the business. I went to bed early and did all the other things you told me. But, say, doctor, that one cigar a day almost killed me at first. It's no joke starting in to smoke at my time of life."—[Everybody's Magazine.

CLOTHIER DEFEATED.

Karl H. Behr of Yale Takes Three Straight Sets from the Former Harvard Expert.

Karl H. Behr of Yale University defeated William J. Clothier of Philadelphia in the final rounds of the Longwood Cricket Club's lawn tennis tournament yesterday in straight sets, 6-1, 8-6, 6-1. Behr will meet William A. Larned, the former national champion and present holder of the Longwood Cup, in the challenge round this afternoon.

The Yale player caught the former Harvard expert off his game at the beginning of the match, and, try as he could, Clothier was unable to regain control of his strokes, while nearly every time he ran in Behr passed him at the net. Despite the heavy rain of the early morning the court was in good condition and the playing was very fast.

Both men played a ground stroke game, volleying and lobbying being entirely absent. Behr seemed to play the court boundaries to perfection, while Clothier drove out of court frequently. On the other hand, Behr was very erratic in his service and made eight double faults.

Clothier was the favorite before the game because of his long experience on the courts, but Behr showed plainly the benefit of the hard work of last week and played with a confidence and daring that carried his opponent off his feet. An excellent contest is looked for between the young Yale player and the veteran Larned.

Summary—Longwood Cup, Final Round—Karl H. Behr defeated William J. Clothier, 6—1, 8—6, 6—1.

TEN PAGES.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE PENNSYLVANIA "GANG."

Last year the President met Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia in a Pennsylvania town and had a cordial interview with him. The conversation was private, but it has been positively stated that he expressed his sympathy with the mayor in his fight against political corruption. Later, in two speeches which he made in one day in Atlanta, he excoriated the "practical" politicians who succeed by criminal means, and his Secretary of State had already denounced the leaders of the Republican organization in Philadelphia as a "corrupt and criminal combination masquerading under the names of Republicans," while his Secretary of War in a speech in Akron denounced political machines and bosses in general, and Cox of Cincinnati in particular.

Still, the Pennsylvania machine politicians hoped to have the prestige of the President's help. On the ground that Congressmen were to be elected they confidently hoped to induce the President to make some political speeches under their auspices. But the reform Republicans are running a candidate of their own who has been endorsed by the Democrats, and the President has flatly refused to make a single political speech. Penrose went to Oyster Bay in vain. The President will make two speeches in the state but neither will be political, and the Republican organization is as badly off as it was a year ago, when even General Grosvenor, who is not very squeamish about his political company if it is Republican in name, refused to speak in Philadelphia. Few men in public life feel that they can afford to associate with the Quay school of politicians.

OLD AGE A CROWN.

How to grow old gracefully is an art which many find it difficult to learn, but there is nothing more charming than the life of the man or the woman who, having passed the years of activity, knows how to spend the last days in calm repose, enjoying to the full the leisure well earned after long years of toil. Some people never learn how to spend their leisure and so old age is to them a burden, and often they in turn thus become a burden to others. But there are others who welcome the days or years of comparative idleness which come in the twilight of life and know how to employ this time in such a way as to make themselves blessings to all who come within the circle of their influence.

One woman of 70 who was resigning some of her lifelong duties to other hands is quoted as saying in reply to a question by a friend as to what she was going to do with her leisure: "I am going to have it, and that will be pleasure enough for the next ten years. By that time I may want to do something else with it." That is the right spirit and the right philosophy to hold toward old age and the leisure which comes or ought to come with it, but not all men and women know how or are willing to face advanced life with its decreased responsibilities and tasks in that way. Some do not wish to resign their cares and work but prefer to struggle on in a task which is beyond their strength with increasing infirmities instead of choosing the better part and making the most of the time of leisure and rest.

What a field for influence and helpfulness there is for the men or women of advanced years in the attitude they may hold toward the young. If life has brought to them the joy and dignity of grandfatherhood or grandmotherhood there is no way in which they can better employ their last years of life than by making the highest use of the opportunity for influencing young character which is given them with that relationship, and if the fates have dealt out to them no such crown there are still about them the children of other homes upon whom they can exert the influence which cheerful, loving old age always has and always will have upon the young. There is an art in being an ideal grandmother or grandfather, but most men and women who reach that dignity learn it to some extent, and some there be who learn it well and honor it much.

The culture of life acquires an added grace and charm as it is expressed in the man or woman of advanced years. All the experience of life is brought forth and made available for impartation to others as the years ripen, and the possibilities of helpfulness are almost innumerable and inestimable in value for the one who has led a full life and has come toward its close. In grace and repose such men and women sit by their firesides and shed forth the very spirit of helpfulness and culture, having learned the art of staying at home and yet keeping a traveled mind, a cheerful spirit, a sweet disposition and a kindly helping hand. To such old age is a crown and not a martyrdom, and its possessors are a beneficent influence in the world and not a burden.

NO "FUTURES" IN GEORGIA.

Georgia has enacted what is called an anti-bucket shop law, but it is a great deal more than that. Bucket shops are unlawful in New York and Illinois, though the greatest speculative exchanges in the country are within their jurisdiction. This Georgia law abolishes all trading in futures.

Agricultural communities are pretty unanimous in their hostility to trading in futures. Where so much is sold which doesn't exist they think the price of what does exist is depressed. Our farmers, East and West, North and South, are much of the same opinion and the farmers of England and Germany are with them. But if trading in futures means the sale of millions of bushels of grain or bales of cotton which does not exist, it means equally the buying of millions which does not exist and which ought to raise the price as much as the other lowers it. Germany a few years ago imposed severe restrictions, almost amounting to the abolition of the exchanges, and the results were unsatisfactory. What was the price of grain? Who could tell when all transactions were private sales? There was no open market, there were no daily quotations. Two neighbors might sell at very different figures.

Georgia will not suffer perceptibly from her own law, because there isn't much speculative trading in Atlanta. That is done at the great cotton markets of New Orleans, Memphis and New York, and the Georgia law cannot reach them. The abolition of trading in futures would mean only cash sales. The consumers will not buy faster than they consume. The producers wish to sell soon after harvest, for they need the money. With the system of futures there is always a market, the producer can sell in the fall, the consumer can buy as he requires and the spring and fall prices vary only by about the cost of carrying the crops for a few months, the insurance and interest. Unless the farmers can be their own capitalists—and they are not rich enough for that—they need capitalists to buy of them in the fall and sell as needed. But with futures to trade in far more persons can buy them if there are only cash transactions. The outside public are mostly buyers and not sellers, and the great corners raise the prices.

DOCTORS' FEES.

Why should the doctor who charged $25,000 for attending Marshall Field for a week be derided for his greed, and why should the executors let him sue for his money? Is the work of a surgeon paid for by the day or the hour? Are not doctors as well entitled to big fees as lawyers? John E. Parsons is reputed to have received $100,000 for organizing the original Sugar Trust, which the courts held to be illegal and a reorganization was necessary. The government paid the late Colonel Bliss of New York $30,000 for 300 days in the Star Route cases; one of the days was spent, according to his bill, in the law library, studying proceedings by information. In spite of which deep study the court rejected the cases he had prepared and compelled him to procure indictments. Congress and the courts are made up of lawyers and they pay big lawyers' bills without a qualm, or approve them in judicial cases, but doctors' bills they treat in a spirit of niggardliness. Yet are not our lives and bodies worth more to us, and entitled to more expensive treatment, than our properties?

It is unfortunate that Governor Utter's name should be mentioned in connection with the United States Senatorship. There is no need of another candidate. Senator Wetmore fills the bill satisfactorily to the state generally, except for the few politicians who want the place for themselves or their friends, and he ought to be re-elected. If Senator Wetmore is not to be returned the News knows of no one to whom it would more heartily give its support than to Governor Utter, but we are in favor of Senator Wetmore as long as he is a candidate.

Downright hard work is the order now in every branch of the engineering and construction work on the Panama canal, and the recent reports are that "the whole movement looks like a 'sure-enough' canal building." Good!

It looks in Maryland as if the state could prevent a lynching only by doing the lynching itself. Still, there is no doubt about the negro's guilt; he is said to have confessed two or three times. The forms of law were complied with, and probably the requirements of justice were met, and an execution by the state, even if rather summary and expedited to get ahead of the mob, looks a little less revolting than slow murder by a bloodthirsty mob.

The Republicans of Iowa are to meet tomorrow in state convention, and a lively time marked by intensely bitter feeling among the factions is anticipated.

New Bedford's car strike is running itself out. The strikers are getting the worst of the struggle.

The high school lawn has been mowed. Now let the Carnival proceed.

THE AUGUST MAGAZINES.

The August Lippincott's has made "diversion" its standard, strictly excluding anything heavy or likely to contain a sleeping-potion. The result is a well rounded number of infinite variety. There is the complete novelette, "An Adventure in Arcady," by Ralph Henry Barbour, which is an ideal summer love-story. Carolyn Wells contributes "The Mystery of the Jade Buddha," which is the story of a house-party at which one of the guests does some pretty detective work; "Born to be Hanged" is a farcical Western sketch by Caroline Lockhart; pathos, which narrowly escapes tragedy, as well as a strongly humorous side, are evident in Mary Moss's tale called "Shore Leave;" the "Miss Lucy" humorous sketches which appear at intervals in Lippincott's have won many friends. The latest in this series is "Miss Lucy and the Simple Life."

Eleanor H. Porter's "In the Footsteps of Katy" contrasts effectively the impress of college life upon two types of girls whose parents are plain country folk. An episode of modern New York life and loving is told by William Hamilton Osborne in "Sylvia and the Subway." A touching story of a little boy is that by Minna Thomas Antrim called "The Tribulations of Don." A seasonable and valuable paper on "The Chautauqua Movement" by Paul M. Pearson will be warmly welcomed by the various "circles" everywhere. An anecdote article by Colonel Willard French on "Current Misconceptions of the Philippines" is of interest.

The Outing Magazine for August is a mid-summer fiction number with some sterling American short fiction by such writers as Lawrence Mott, Clarence Edward Mulford, Sewell Ford, Adele Marie Shaw and Ernest Russell, besides the new instalment of Jack London's "White Fang," which grows in interest as the story progresses. The number is notable, moreover, for its beautiful colored plates made from characteristic paintings by Schoonover, Kemp, Kreighoff and Wyeth. Among the articles, perhaps the most notable thing is the beginning of Dillon Wallace's remarkable story of Labrador exploration, entitled "The Long Labrador Trail." Ralph D. Paine's "Builders" series continues. Each story is separate in itself, this month's instalment being called "Where Ranch and City Meet," a story of the rapidly diminishing oldtime California ranches. John R. Spears tells the first of many tales of the old buccaneers—articles that are a new proof that fact is stranger than fiction— and Charles Belmont Davis's entertaining article entitled "The Renaissance of Coney" is made more attractive by some of Hy. S. Watson's drawings. Among the practical articles of the month are "Speed Swimming," by L. de B. Handley; "A Pocket Golf Course," by Van Tassel Sutphen; a horse article by F. M. Ware, and another of Dan Beard's practical roughing-it articles. There are many other features in this number which are worthy of mention, such as verse by Bliss Carman and Elizabeth Roberts MacDonald, and a pretty fantasy in prose by Edwina Stanton Babcock.

FRANCE AS A WORLD BANKER.

[Stoddard Dewey, in the Atlantic.]

Among other results of the Algeciras conference France has come to a consciousness of her real power in the world at large. An English financier had already said that if the French people continue to live on the principle, "Where you have four sous spend only two" they will end by having in their possession all the coined gold in the world. The great portion of it which they already possess, and the distress caused to German finance and industry by the patriotic refusal of the united French banks to allow their gold to be drawn until peace was secure, had a great and probably decisive influence in the happy termination of this entangled affair of Morocco.

The floating of the latest Russian loan has since come to show yet further the riches of France, to which tourists alone, it is estimated, add two billion francs in gold each year. This money power and money need should tend to the keeping of European peace more than all the theories of the pacifists who clamor for a disarmament impossible to obtain. In favor of France should also be added the unwieldiness of parliamentary government in case of sudden war.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS WRIT IN SIAM

The proprietors of a Siamese newspaper have distributed handbills containing the following notice:

"The news of English we tell the latest. Writ in perfectly style and most earliest. Do a murder, git commit, we hear of and tell it. Do a mighty chief die, we publish it, and in borders of sombre. Staff has each one been colleged, and write like the Kipling and the Dickens. We circle every town and extortionate not for advertisement. Buy it. Buy it. Tell each of you its greatness for good. ### Democratic State Central Committee to Issue a Call.

New Manufacturing Industries in Providence—Married Fifty Years.

In accordance with the initiative which the Democrats have already assumed in the coming campaign, Chairman Frank E. Fitzsimmons of the Democratic state central committee has issued a call for an important meeting of the committee, to be held in Providence. The purpose of the meeting, as stated by the chairman, is to fix the date and issue a call for a Democratic state and district convention, for the nomination of candidates for governor and other state officers, and also a Congressman, to be pitted against Representative Adin B. Capron from the second district. The matter of candidates has not yet received that measure of consideration which makes it possible to predict with certainty whom the convention will select to make up the Democratic ticket. Considerable talk has been heard for some weeks, however, that Mayor James H. Higgins, who is now serving his fourth term as chief executive of Pawtucket, is to be the nominee for governor. Mayor Higgins is at present absent on a Western trip, and while he has been quoted as expressing a desire to retire from politics, it is believed in well-informed circles that he will accept the nomination if tendered him.

An option upon a tract of land in Providence was placed on record yesterday, which means that a large manufacturing plant will be erected in that city. The land covers 15½ acres bounded by Reservoir avenue and the roadbed of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, being known as Miner's woods. The option is at the rate of $2,200 per acre, is to run 60 days and must be closed within three days after an agreement is made to purchase. It is held by Irving B. Ells of New York, who represents a large manufacturing concern, the management of which has been looking over sites at Bridgeport, Conn., Worcester and Providence. The local one is said to be the most desirable, inasmuch as there is a large trunk sewer close to the roadbed, which is just the connection the company is looking for and must have. Those who are interested in the option decline to give information as to the line of business to be conducted in the plant which is to be established, but they intimate that it will be an important addition to the manufacturing interests of the city.

The conclusion of 50 years of married life was the cause of many congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Hurley of 36 East George street, Providence, yesterday. All the living children of the couple, with their children, making a total of 33 in the family, gathered during the day and participated in the anniversary dinner, which was held in the early afternoon. Four generations were represented at the family reunion. A pleasant incident of the reunion was the presentation of a handsome solitaire diamond ring to Mrs. Hurley and a solid gold watch to Mr. Hurley, the gifts of the children, James H. Hurley, the eldest son, making the presentation speech. In the evening many old friends and relatives of the family called on the couple to extend the felicitations upon the rounding out of 50 happy years of wedlock. The exceedingly good health of both was remarked upon by those who visited them. Time has apparently dealt gently with both.

Announcement is made of the intention of the Foster-Eastabrooks Company of Amesbury, Mass., manufacturers of underwear, who also have a plant in Belfast, Me., to remove their industry from the Massachusetts town to Providence. The removal is to take place in the near future, it is stated. Negotiations have been completed by the company for a place in Providence, it being believed that a better opportunity for the industry is afforded there. A total of 75 hands are employed at the Amesbury plant of the company, and it is expected that practically the same number will find work with the concern in Providence. The Belfast factory of the company will remain as at present.

NEEDLEWORKERS' WAGES.

[Anna Steese Richardson in Woman's Home Companion.]

The apprentice in dressmaking has to work six months for nothing or perhaps a mere pittance as errand girl. Then she starts on linings at four dollars per week. Next, she does over-sewing and finishing at six dollars. Trimmers on skirts or waists receive $12 to $14 per week, and fitters from $15 to $18. A small establishment is considered better than a large one for learning the trade, as more personal attention is given apprentices and there is quicker advancement. Any woman who sews neatly by hand or does fine embroidery along popular lines, can secure a position in a shop without difficulty, and the fall rush in dressmaking opens up September first.

A girl with the shopping gift can usually secure a position with a dressmaker as shopper. Her first duties consist of matching thread, buttons, linings, etc., and later she is entrusted with trimmings, laces, etc. She starts at four dollars per week, spends most of her time in stores and usually becomes a professional shopper.

Operators in suit and waist factories do piece-work principally, and as a rule make $12 per week. Finishers, who sew on buttons, etc., receive no more than $7 per week.

In underwear factories, girls start the trade by running ribbon through beading, ironing, running buttonhole machines, and gradually learn to sew on insertion, tucking, etc. They quickly work up to six dollars per week. An expert in underwear makes $12 or $14 per week.

DECREASE OF INSURANCE BUSINESS.

The effect of the insurance agitation of last fall and winter on the life insurance business is reflected in the report of Otto Kelsey, state superintendent of insurance, for the year ended December 31, 1905, which has just been issued. Mr. Kelsey shows that the New York State companies issued 597,379 policies, insuring in the sum of $965,818,898, and terminated 226,909 policies, insuring in the sum of $785,982,331.

The companies of other states issued 420,338 policies, insuring in the sum of $766,252,613 and terminated 236,909 policies, insuring $410,519,413. The aggregate is 1,017,717 policies issued, insuring $1,733,101,511, and 657,159 policies terminated, insuring $1,195,501,744. Compared with 1904, it appears that the companies issued 83,336 policies less last year, and the amount of insurance written decreased $151,723,851. There were 76,931 more policies terminated in 1905 than in 1904, and $93,518,766 more insurance.

THIRTY-THREE CRAFT AT ANCHOR

Three Yacht Clubs Assemble in New London Harbor.

Combined Fleet of Edgewood and Washington Park Boats to Run to Newport Today.

Thirty-three craft of the combined fleets of the Rhode Island, Sachem's Head and Hartford Yacht Clubs were in New London harbor last evening, in the midst of a big squadron of craft of the New York Yacht Club, including many large steam yachts and four ships of the United States navy.

The weather was thick at the hour scheduled for the start of the Rhode Island yachts from Stonington in the morning, but it gradually cleared, and the 15 craft got away nearly together. Orders were issued from the Ethelsa for a go-as-you-please sail to the westward, with the trip down the Sound to meet the visitors not compulsory. Accordingly everybody but the Ethelsa and sloop Sachem made quick time into New London, for the sea was choppy in the Sound, and the amateur sailors were disposed to rest a bit after the previous day's hard trip. After leaving Stonington the yachts had good weather, and a smashing breeze to New London. The first to arrive was the Flint boat, Wanderer IV, which made the run in fine shape, making almost 15 miles in the excellent time of 2½ hours.

The Sigma III, owned by R. W. Comstock, of Providence, was in 13 minutes later, and she was closely followed by A. S. Kielley's Millie. The rest followed at short intervals, and by sundown all the fleet, which was in Stonington Sunday, were safely at anchor in the Thames, with two or three additions.

The Connecticut yachtsmen began to arrive about the middle of the afternoon, a stiff southerly breeze sending them along at a speed equal to the power craft. The Sachem's Head fleet numbered 14, including two power boats, while of the party from up the Connecticut river there were four sail and one power boats.

The combined fleets crossed the Sound to Shelter Island today. The yachts will race as clubs, that is, the Rhode Island, Sachem's Head and Hartford Clubs against one another. Four yachts will be picked from each club to form the teams, and time allowances will be computed on over all measurements. The following craft will be picked to represent the Rhode Island Yacht Club: Flint brothers' Wanderer IV, R. W. Comstock's Sigma III, Colonel S. M. Nicholson's Ishkoodah and Russell Grinnell's Bambino.

There is nothing in the shape of competition between the boats of the same clubs, the idea being to have it a team race in every particular, yachts of the same team to help one another in every possible way. The club getting the highest average will be the victor.

---

The yachtsmen of the combined fleet of the Edgewood and Washington Park Yacht Clubs successfully weathered the southeaster Sunday night in Wickford cove. Several boats joined the fleet yesterday and among these were yawl Planska and cat Sea Fox of the Washington Park Yacht Club and sloop Nixie, owned by Richmond Fales. Captain Fales started on the Rhode Island cruise, but the heavy seas encountered off Charlestown Beach were too much for his boat and he was obliged to seek harbor. Commodore Babbitt, after consulting Fleet Captain Whitford, issued orders postponing the run to Dutch Island, as it was blowing hard and a heavy sea was running outside. Most of the boats remained at anchor while a few of the larger ones went to Dutch Island.

The run today is to Newport and the fleet will sail around the southern end of Conanicut Island, rounding Beaver Tail.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Miss Green of Providence, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green on Clinton avenue, has returned home.

Mr. John Cottrell of Pawtucket is in town.

Miss Henriette D. Stadler has returned from a short visit to New York.

Dr. G. B. Miller has gone to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Springer and family of Fort Washington, Maryland, are at the King cottage, West ferry.

Mrs. E. Gilmore and daughter, who are occupying the "Pines" this season, have gone to New York for a short time.

Steamer Kennebec of the new line to New York was late in leaving last evening, owing to an unusually large shipment of fish for this time of year, upwards of 600 barrels being shipped from here.

Mrs. Duncan Wood of Portsmouth, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Lacey of Providence are among the latest arrivals at the Bay View.

The farmers on the island are shipping their potatoes to Newport daily, and in spite of the poor weather this season the crop seems plentiful and of a good quality.

Yesterday one of the stages containing a part of the Merchant and Miners' excursion party from Baltimore collided with a wagon standing in front of Bailey's market on Narragansett avenue. The stages containing the excursion party were coming down the avenue two of them abreast, and one of them through some mismanagement hit Mr. T. Taylor's wagon standing on the side of the road, rolling it partly over on another team standing beside it. There was a bad tangle of horses and wagons for a few minutes, but fortunately the horses did not become frightened and little damage was done.

The Atlantic squadron, commanded by Admiral Evans, dropped anchor this morning off the east ferry for a stay of ten days.

The float recently placed at its dock by the Ferry Company, for the use of the public, will be much appreciated for the next few days by the officers and crew of the battleships, and also by those wishing to visit the ships, as it is so placed as to make a convenient and central landing place for small boats.

DREDGE COLUMBIA SOLD AT AUCTION.

Dredge Columbia, belonging to C. M. Cole of Fall River, which caught fire and was sunk at the entrance to the new harbor at Block Island several days ago, was sold at auction yesterday for the benefit of the owners and claimants. Only one bid was made, and it was knocked down to Mark W. Holborn of New Bedford for $10. What is left of the Columbia still lies in the harbor entrance. It is understood that the craft will be broken up by the owner, who will be able to realize considerably more than the purchase price from her machinery and fittings.

AN ELABORATE SPECTACLE.

But the Dockstader Performance Itself Was Not So Good as Last Year.

The theatrical season at the Opera House was opened as usual by Dockstader's Minstrels, and in spite of the warm weather there was a full house last evening to see the popular show. It was an elaborate spectacle which was presented, elaborate in its scenic effects and costuming, but the performance itself was not so good as last year. Perhaps this was due to its newness, for it was evident that some of the dash and spirit which is usually found in minstrel shows was lacking on this occasion. It was one of the first performances of the season for the company, and there will be an improvement as the show continues its journey.

The opening set was a beautiful Arabesque scene, entitled the Palace of Emeralds. The first part brought out a long list of vocalists and comedians, and the ballad singing by Resse V. Posser, Manuel Romain and Mat Keefe was excellent, while the songs and witty stories and jokes by John King, John Dove, Neil O'Brien and Lew Dockstader were pleasing without a semblance of coarseness. The yodle song by Keefe was particularly good. The first part concluded with what was called a laughable oddity, "The Hot Air Subway," which had little of interest and was not especially funny.

The dancing specialty, "Dixie Land," was a pretty scene and introduced several good songs and dances by Tommy Hyde, the Foley boys and others of the company. Next on the program was Dockstader, who introduced himself by moving pictures showing his haste to get to the theatre and the hurried make-up for the part. He appeared as an editor of a paper, but did not do justice to himself or the part. The local hits introduced did not "catch on" very well, but his songs had the regular Dockstadian flavor. Neil O'Brien was next with a burlesque "Rapid Transit up to Date," which contained a number of clever hits and some funny scenes. The performance concluded with a beautiful picture to illustrate the song, "Moon Love," sung by Manuel Romain. The introduction of the picture of a woman in the moon, shown by the moving picture machine, gave a pretty touch to the scene, and made a fitting conclusion to the performance.

OBJECTED TO BEING PHOTOGRAPHED.

A somewhat sensational incident took place this noon in front of the Casino. Yesterday a young man, who represented that he is connected with a New York paper, attempted to take a snapshot picture of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and her companion, Mr. Henry S. Lehr. Chief of Police Crowley, feeling that he had as much right to pose for his picture as any other person, stepped in front of the camera and Mrs. Fish and Mr. Lehr were saved from having their photograph taken. At noon today the young man with his camera snapped a photograph of Mr. Lehr alone, in front of the Casino. Mr. Lehr seized the man by the throat and dragged him into Howard & Co.'s store, the manager of which, Mr. Rourke, seeing the crowd and commotion, adroitly locked the door. Chief of Police Crowley was soon on the scene, and in the store Mr. Lehr, seeing that he had made a mistake, returned the camera, uninjured, to the man and paid him for the negative of the picture he had taken.

WITH THE FLEET IN PORT.

There were not many signs of activity about the Government Landing this morning, as a result of the arrival of the fleet. The mail orderlies came ashore, and that was about all. Later some boats came over for supplies and there began to be more signs of life than are usual, though the landing is on ordinary days quite a busy place at times. On account of the number of small boats which will be continuously running to the landing the General Robert Swartwout, the quartermaster's boat, will for the next week tie up nights at Fort Adams, to allow more room at the landing for the boats and launches of the fleet.

The men from the fleet who have been ashore seem all to be attired in the summer uniform of white duck, and look cool. The uniform seems to go with the weather supplied to Newport today.

It is likely that, with the fleet here, the army and navy base ball teams in this district will have something to do, as about all the ships have teams which are anxious to play and the local teams have four ball fields—at the polo lot, Training Station and Forts Adam and Greble.

A NEW EMERGENCY COMPANY.

Hose No. 6 to Go Out of Existence—Change will Take E. S. Hughes from Care of Parks.

Tomorrow the No. 6 hose company will go out of being and the new emergency company No. 2 will come into being, four of the present members of the No. 6 company, Foreman Eugene S. Hughes, Assistant Foreman Edward McCarthy and Hosemen Patrick Canole and John J. Murphy, forming the new company. The old Sixes was the youngest company in the city until the organization of the present Hose 3. It was made up by the late Captain Matthews of strong, able-bodied and active young men, who were not afraid of work, and the same standard has been maintained since, so that the company goes out of existence with a creditable record. The new emergency company comes in with good prospects, for the four men who will compose the company are all tried and proved men who have made a good record in the department. The change will not be complete until the arrival of the new chemical engine, which may not be for a couple of weeks yet; then the company will be ready for business.

The change of firemen will effect another department of the city, as it will take out of the gardening business Mr. Eugene S. Hughes, who for the past 16 years has had charge of the public parks. He started with the parks when Alderman John D. Pike was chairman of the committee, and before there was any Park Commission and the parks to be cared for were few—the Mall, Touro, Liberty and Equality parks being all that were cared for. Under the Park Commission Morton and King parks, Battery park, the Soldiers' and Sailors' park and a number of burial grounds have come in for attention.

During all the time that Mr. Hughes has had the care of the parks he has so cared for them that they have been a credit to the city. When owing to any celebration or band concert the parks were littered with papers and peanut shells and such material, they have been cleared so early that people going out at the usual hour have seen nothing to show that the grass was ever littered. The grass has been kept looking well and at Morton park where there is a chance to make a showing the grounds have been kept up in a manner that would compare favorably with any private grounds in the neighborhood.

Now that Mr. Hughes has become tired of the active work of city gardener, and is to retire to the quiet of a fireman's existence, it does not mean that the parks will be neglected. Under his contract he is to care for them the remainder of this year and the work will be done by his brother, Mr. John Hughes, who has been associated with him for many years.

FISH POUNDS CUT.

The scup fishermen are shipping a barrel and a half per man today, as they did yesterday. That is all that is going, and things look quiet on the fish section of Long wharf.

Reports are heard of more pounds which have been cut by some one who is evidently no friend of the fishermen. Last week Macomber & Simmons had a large pound cut almost completely around, allowing 700 or 800 barrels of scup to escape. These fish were caught and ready to be shipped to market as fast as the trade demand called for them, and their loss cannot be made good, as no more scup can be caught. The damage to the seine can be repaired. It is also reported that Mr. Wilcox's pound was lately cut and a quantity of scup given liberty. There are also reports of losses by fishermen who have weakfish pounded, so that the fish pirates seem to have been having quite a picnic. It would go badly with any one doing this work if they were caught.

TWO TYPES OF YACHTS.

There was a good opportunity to note the difference between some yachts at the Newport shipyard yesterday afternoon, when sloop yacht Humma, Mr. Emmons, and launch Artful, Mr. Whitney, were hauled out. The Humma draws about ten feet two inches and the Artful about two feet, and it looks as though the Humma draws more than the entire height of the Artful from her keel to the top of her small boat davits. The Artful is of especially small displacement, as even a fair-sized launch would have more underbody. She is all for power and looks as though she would cut the water like a sharp knife: and that is what they say she does, throwing spray all about. Her two speedway engines of 120 horse power each drive twin screws with but two blades, and her speed on her trial trip was reported to be over 21 knots, which takes her out of the yacht class and rates her with the torpedo boat class.

A HOT DAY.

Some people may not think this is a hot day, but any one who has moved about in the sun will agree that it will pass for one. The temperature is not so high as twice this season, on July 3 and 19, but it is hot enough to suit most folks, as there is little air blowing and things are still and close and hot. The temperature at 7 this morning by a conservative thermometer was 71, and in a cool place where any little zephyr could be felt it was 69 at the same hour, which is pretty well up for Newport.

ENGAGED IN TUNING UP RACES.

American Yachts to Defend Roosevelt Cup Against German Boats.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., July 31.—A majority of the 19 American 32 rating yachts that have been built for the defense of the Roosevelt cup against the three German aspirants for that trophy are now engaged in a series of tuning up races in these waters. These events will probably continue almost daily until the trial races, which will be held during the week of August 13, under the direction of the Eastern Yacht Club, which originated the international contest for these small boats and donated the cup named for President Roosevelt with his permission. After the trial races the club will select three of the 19 yachts to sail against the three German boats, which are now being brought to this country on steamers.

The cup races will occur during the week of September 3 and five races will be sailed, the trophy going to the yacht that wins the majority of the contests, or wins the fifth race of the series. Provision is made in case of a tie.

The three German yachts that have been selected to represent that country are the Glueckauf IV of the Imperial Yacht Club, the Wannsee of the Segelhaus Yacht Club and the Tilly VI of the North German Regatta Club. The Glueckauf IV and the Wannsee are expected in New York shortly, while the Tilly VI will reach Boston about the middle of next month.

All the yachts have been designed and built in the country which they represent, and under the conditions agreed upon by the Eastern Yacht Club and the Imperial Yacht Club of Kiel.

The yachts, which, as they are built under certain restrictions, are known as special class, or sonder klasse, are limited in dimensions to a total of 32 feet in the combined length of the water line, the beam and the draught. The sail area is restricted to 550 square feet and the crew to three men, all native-born citizens of the country in which the yachts are built, with the helmsman an amateur. The displacement must not be less than 1,035 pounds without the crew, and all the yachts must be weighed. No centerboards are allowed, but the rig is optional.

As the yachts have all been built for something less than $2,500, the average being about $2,000, the American yachtsmen have entered into the contest as never before in an international event.

Six of the yachts are owned by members of the Eastern Yacht Club, the New York Yacht Club has an aspirant in the Vim, owned by Trenor L. Park, and the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans in a boat named for that city and owned by Commodore Heaslip and others of that club.

Two of the yachtsmen have become so enthusiastic over the contests that they have entered two boats each. The entries, which closed two weeks ago, are as follows:

| Yacht | Owner | Club |
|---|---|---|
| Alecto | E. W. Hodgson and R. L. Pond | Boston |
| Auk | C. F. Adams, 2d | Quincy |
| Bonidrel | G. H. Wightman | Hingham |
| Caramba | C. H. W. Foster | Eastern |
| Chewink VI | F. G. Macomber, Jr. | Corinthian |
| Cod | Dr. Morton Prince | Boston |
| Ellen | C. P. Curtis, Jr. | Eastern |
| Hayseed I | H. L. Bowden | Corinthian |
| Hayseed III | H. L. Bowden | Corinthian |
| Lorelei | R. P. Cheney and C. D. Lanning | Boston |
| Manchester II | Dr. J. L. Bremer | Manchester |
| Moslem II | B. D. Barker | Eastern |
| New Orleans | Commodore S. F. Heaslip et als | New Orleans |
| Sally VIII | L. F. Percival | Corinthian |
| Skiddoo | H. M. Sears | Eastern |
| Spokane | F. Lewis Clark | Eastern |
| Sumatra | Francis Skinner | Eastern |
| Vim | Trenor L. Park | New York |
| Windrim Kid | F. G. Macomber, Jr. | Corinthian |

The yachts raced yesterday under the auspices of the Boston Yacht Club, and the Sally VIII won. Today the Eastern Yacht Club provided the event, while tomorrow the Corinthian Yacht Club will take charge of the races and will continue in charge until Saturday, a valuable cup being offered for the best work in the series of that club.

HEN THIEF DISAPPEARS.

Operations Covered Towns in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, July 31.—The disappearance of Antonio Rosso, a convicted hen thief, whose operations are supposed to have covered many towns in eastern Connecticut as well as Rhode Island, has been a cause of dissatisfaction to local officers, who considered his capture an important one when made a few weeks ago.

Rosso is credited by the police with having been concerned in the removal of about 1,000 hens which were missed at different times from their roosts in Johnston, Scituate, Greenville and North Providence, and towns of eastern Connecticut. When his case came up in the district court in Thornton, he failed to appear and his bail was ordered forfeited. Rosso had pleaded guilty to one charge of theft and had been sentenced to three months in jail.

On three other cases he pleaded not guilty, and a total bond of $1,200 was required to cover all the cases. The court refused to accept surety offered by a neighbor, but the warden at the jail considered the bond satisfactory and accepted it. Rosso was set free and did not appear when his case was called in Thornton yesterday.

REFUSES TO PAY CLAIMS.

German Insurance Company Says Policy Does Not Provide For Losses.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The Trans-Atlantic Fire Insurance Company of Hamburg, Germany, has refused to pay San Francisco insurance claims approximating $1,000,000. The following statement was given out:

"The Trans-Atlantic Fire Insurance Company denies liability upon the ground that the losses arose from an overwhelming catastrophe, due to a visitation of Providence, for indemnity against the consequences of which the policy never was intended to provide and does not provide. Moreover, the attitude of the re-insuring companies at home compels the trans-Atlantic to assume this position."

CAN BE MADE USE OF AGAIN.

Sixty Per Cent of City Hall and Hall of Justice of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The board of supervisors passed a vote of confidence in the major part of the city hall and also the hall of justice at its meeting yesterday. A special committee reported: "At least 60 per cent of both buildings can be made use of again, and within less than two years they can be completed and economically restored." The board resolved that the debris and wreck should be cleared away, and that the hall of records be immediatly put in good condition.

It seemed as though everybody in and about East Greenwich must have been on the boat, for there were 700, a big excursion for a small place to send out. TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

BATTLESHIPS HERE.

Atlantic Fleet Arrives This Morning, After a Slight Accident.

Type and Armament of the Vessels and List of the Officers on Board.

At 9:51 o'clock this morning battleship Maine, bearing the pennant of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, came into the bay, followed by the other three ships of the first squadron of the Atlantic fleet. The four vessels—Maine, Missouri, Kentucky and Kearsarge—passed slowly in between Fort Adams and Fort Wetherill and up to their usual anchorage off the Jamestown shore. The Maine went up between Rose Island and Conanicut, while the others trailed down towards the Dumplings. Admiral Evans, being the senior officer, received a salute from the Training Station battery, which was answered from the Maine, and the commanding officers of the stations here at once went on board the flagship to pay their respects as required by the navy regulations.

The second squadron, comprising the Alabama, flagship; Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, arrived later in the forenoon, casting anchor in another column parallel with the first squadron. Prior to their arrival Admiral Evans was advised by wireless that the two leading ships, the Alabama and Illinois, had been in collision and that while one man had been seriously injured neither ship had suffered damage under water. The accident occurred outside during a thick fog at 5:15 o'clock this morning, according to Admiral Evans's information. When the squadron arrived it was to be seen that the two ships were slightly damaged about their upper works, where they had scraped one another, but the damage was largely superficial.

Admiral Evans upon the arrival of the ships at anchor at once ordered a court of inquiry, which will look into the matter and prepare a report to be sent by the admiral to Washington, that it may be determined whether or not the case is one demanding a court-martial. For the past few weeks the two squadrons have encountered a large amount of fog and navigation has been extremely difficult, but until the present accident they have happily escaped coming so close as to result in damage to any of the craft. A rumor has been circulated that the two damaged ships went to the New York navy yard for repairs, but both came here and took their anchorages assigned them.

Some persons were disappointed on going earlier in the forenoon to the head of Long wharf and not seeing the ships, which according to reports circulated widely had arrived last evening. The fleet left Rockport, Mass., at 10:30 yesterday morning, and steamed slowly along the coast. While here the ships of the two squadrons will coal at Bradford, and the fleet will remain in the harbor, according to the present program, until August 8, when they will return to Rockport for a continuation of the manoeuvres.

The eight battleships of the fleet represent varying types, ranging from the Indiana, whose keel was laid in 1891, and the Missouri, whose keel was laid in 1900. The Indiana is of the Indiana-Massachusetts-Oregon class and this vessel and the Iowa, which was laid down in 1893, are the only ones of the fleet which were in commission during the Spanish-American war. The Kearsarge, Kentucky and Alabama were laid down in 1896, the Maine in 1899 and the Missouri in 1900.

The ships have an individual displacement ranging from the 10,163 tons of the Indiana to the 12,846 tons of the Maine, with an aggregate 93,658 tonnage. They have an aggregate of 100,919 horse power, ranging from the 9,607 horse power of the Indiana to the 15,603 horse power of the Maine.

The ships have an aggregate complement of 278 officers and 4,281 men, the Indiana having the smallest number, 26 officers and 481 men, and the Alabama and Illinois the largest, 34 officers and 617 men. The Iowa, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Maine and Missouri carry a larger number of officers, the Missouri 40, but a smaller complement in the crew than the Alabama and Illinois.

The contract cost of the several ships was: Alabama, $2,650,000; Illinois, $2,595,000; Indiana, $3,063,000; Kearsarge and Kentucky, $3,010,000 each; and Maine and Missouri, $2,885,000, a total of $21,578,000, exclusive of armament and equipment.

The speed of the vessels ranges from 15 knots for the Indiana to 18 knots for the Maine and Missouri, giving the fleet a speed of 15 knots, that of the slowest ship.

The aggregate armament is twenty 13-inch and twelve 12-inch breech-loading rifles, twenty 8-inch, sixty-four 6-inch and twenty-eight 5-inch rapid-fire guns in the main batteries, and one hundred and twelve 6-pounder, sixteen 3-pounder, twelve 3-inch and fifty-four 1-pounder rapid-fire guns, seventeen 3-inch field guns and twenty-six 30-calibre automatic guns in the secondary batteries. The ships have four 14-inch and twenty-two 18-inch torpedo tubes.

The torpedo boat destroyers carry each two 18-inch Whitehead torpedoes and two 3-inch and five 6-pounder rapid-fire guns. They have an aggregate of 1,302 tonnage and 20,800 aggregate horse power. The speed of the Lawrence is 28.41 knots, of the Macdonough 28.03 and of the Whipple 28.24.

The latest list of the officers of the fleet is as follows:

Maine (Flagship).

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic fleet.

Captain John E. Pillsbury, chief of staff; Lieutenant Commander M. L. Bristol, Lieutenant Commander C. B. Brittain, Lieutenant W. S. Crossley and Ensign R. P. Craft, aides.

Captain Nathan E. Niles, commanding the Maine.

Lieutenant Commanders W. H. G. Bullard, W. J. Terhune and F. C. Bowers.

Lieutenants J. R. P. Pringle and S. I. M. Major.

Ensigns R. Williams, W. E. Whitehead and L. R. Leahy.

SUMMER FOODS.

Fruits and Vegetables Should be Used Freely As Diet During the Hot Weather.

[New York Herald.]

The plentiful supply of fruits and vegetables in our market gives us the requisite hints for our summer diet. For the most part they are cheap and satisfying, and afford the necessary nutrition without noticeably increasing animal heat. While extra exertion is inadvisable, any surplus of energy is unnecessary. The exact opposite is the case in winter, when tissue waste is more rapid and bodily warmth more necessary. Thus during our heated terms nature wisely tempers the appetite for meats and other more solid foods, and contents us with the lighter garden stuffs in their season. Any of these are healthy in their way, and are sufficient to satisfy all varieties of appetite. In the torrid zones they constitute the bulk of the diet. Why not apply such indication of bodily needs to our purposes of health and comfort?

Eggs, milk, cereals and fish supply most of our needs for substantial nourishment, while the fruits and vegetables do the rest. The food value of fruit depends mainly upon the amount of sugar, salts and vegetable acids they contain. The relative proportions of these ingredients vary greatly and have a corresponding influence on nutrition and digestibility. The orange is perhaps the leading favorite, combining substance, flavor, sweetness and due acidity. The apple ranks next, but in its raw state is sometimes indigestible. It is perhaps the only fruit that is improved by cooking. Peaches are comparatively poor in sugar, have very small nutritive value, being mostly composed of gum, vegetable jelly and acid juices. As a rule, they are easily digested. The banana is the most substantial of all fruits, has the highest sustaining properties and is generally easily assimilated.

Cherries and the various berries are particularly relishable because of the large quantity of sugar they contain. Pears, grapes and melons, delicious in their way, have also little more than flavor to recommend them as articles of diet. Of course none of these should be eaten unripe or over-ripe, as in either case they may cause digestive derangements. Their ideal state is when they are fully matured and freshly plucked.

Among vegetables the potato, mainly composed of starch, is the all-round standby, but it owes its reputation more to its agreeable combination with meats, beans, peas and other proteid foods than to any intrinsic virtue of its own. The various other roots, such as the carrot, beet, parsnip, oyster plant and radish, are also quite poor in proteids and contain but a small amount of other nutriments. All are, however, valuable, not only in providing a variety that stimulates appetite, but are of distinct service in preventing that particular form of malnutrition known as scurvy, at one time the scourge of army and navy.

Cabbage is a veritable bugbear to many who might enjoy an otherwise relishable dish. Raw, boiled or fermented, it is the horror of the dyspeptic, but to the Teutonic stomach it is more than a welcome guest. Boiled spinach, however, an equally German dish, has no such objections and is now much in fashion with the medical profession as a combined food and medicine for torpid digestion.

The cooling salads are deservedly popular. The lettuce family, cresses and the like are wholesome, digestible and agreeable to the system. Asparagus is rightly prized for its delicious flavor. Even the onion, the despised interloper, is a most honest contributor to any feast and by its volatile oil act as an efficient stomachic stimulant. The tomato ranks equally high as a relish, but is most unjustly under the ban as a provoker of rheumatism.

Thus for the summer feeder there is truly an embarrassment of opportunities. The best of all is that fruit and vegetables in the raw state retain their original flavors and are all within reach when we appreciate and need them most. But for all that can be said in favor of a mostly vegetable diet for the hotter months, animal food in some shape is required by most workers. One meal of meat, fish or poultry is usually sufficient for such, unless the bodily labor is very severe. In this, as in other matters of feeding, the appetite has a rule of its own that defies all theories and is a law unto itself.

It is one thing to find fuel for the furnace, but another proposition to furnish power and energy to the machinery. We can have both in a reasonable proportion if we are only sure of what we actually need. And such a need is never very insistent when the temperature is high and the spirits are low.

LAND-CRABS' QUEER WAYS.

[Margaret Wentworth Leighton in St. Nicholas.]

Does it not seem wonderful that some crabs should live on mountains, 4,000 feet high They have, in addition to the lung, a little reservoir of water within their bodies for moistening the breathing apparatus when it becomes dry. Though dwelling so far from the sea, they have a strong affection for their old home, and once a year they make a pilgrimage to it to bathe and deposit their eggs. They go in May (the rainy season on the islands in the Pacific and Indian oceans, where they live), in vast hordes, straight to the sea.

Rev. Thomas Stebbing says in his "History of Crustacea": "The army is often a mile and a half long and 40 or 50 paces broad. Each soldier marches sideways. They go over everything that comes in their way, be it hedges, houses, churches, hills or cliffs. They would rather clamber up at the peril of their lives than make a circuit. They sometimes pass in at the windows on one side of a house, right over the occupants, who may be asleep in bed, and out at those on the other side, causing the people no little fright. The vanguard, composed wholly of males, starts some days before the main army. The noise which they make is like the rattling of armor. If any luckless soldier falls and breaks his limbs he is immediately gobbled up by his companions."

Unlike most sea-crabs, the young of the land-crabs do not pass through a number of changes, but the little ones are perfect when they leave the egg. They live on the sea shore, clinging to the rocks, and enjoying themselves for some time before they go to their home in the hills.

SEEING ONE'S OWN COUNTRY FIRST.

[Stuart L. Douglas, in Outing.]

"Going abroad" enjoys the prestige of many generations and its paths are deep rutted. It has lost all claim to distinction, however, and nowadays is not a thing to talk about among your friends unless you wish to bore them to distraction. The tourist party has made the undertaking so commonplace that to have whizzed through Europe implies neither a long purse nor the slightest originality of intellect. I was once crossing in a steamer which contained an average muster-roll of touring Americans. Those who were making their first trip abroad and felt inclined to put on some small airs about it were speedily cowed and abashed. They found that most of their fellow voyagers had crossed from three to ten times, and that the only passenger who enjoyed the slightest distinction was a veteran who was doing his twenty-sixth "run across the pond."

Far be it from me to decry the enlightening advantages of sightseeing in the Old World, where age, tradition and the novel aspect of people and things arouse the imagination and refresh the tired mind. But for one American who returns in a wholly refreshed and satisfied condition, I will find you another who will confess to numberless irritations because of petty and organized swindles and extortions waged against the Yankee in a strange land, and to futile annoyance over bad hotels, poor railway service and a civility that is won and held only on a cash basis.

Largely because it has been possible for the man of moderate income to spend one or two months abroad for a considerable smaller outlay than he could tour his own country, he puts "seeing America" last instead of first, and it has been up-hill work to induce people who travel to listen to the claims of the undiscovered land toward the Golden Gate. It has come to pass, however, that the journey from New York to California is considered worth talking about as much as the trip to London or Paris, and there are grounds for hope that at no far-distant time the average American with money and time for a summer or winter holiday will take pains to study his own land before he flies to the nearest steamship office to get a sailing schedule.

TO STUDY GERMAN ALCOHOL INDUSTRY.

The United States commission, appointed to investigate the denaturization of alcohol, has arrived in Berlin to study the German alcohol, fuel and lighting industry. Alcohol for these purposes sells at wholesale at about 20 cents a gallon, and probably more is used in Germany than in any other country for cooking, illumination and motors. The industry is growing, and may rival beet sugar in agricultural value.

It is a common sight in the country to see a tall chimney belonging to a farm distillery, where a crop of potatoes is turned into alcohol, the mash being used for feeding cattle and hogs. The Emperor offered several prizes for the best alcohol burning machines, especially automobiles for army transport. His majesty himself once astonished King Edward and a house party at Sandringham by superintending personally a demonstration of an alcohol burning cooking apparatus.

CHARGED WITH PEONAGE.

Preliminary Trial of Employes of Jackson Lumber Company.

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 31.—The preliminary trial of Robert Gallagher, wood superintendent, and J. Porter, bookkeeper for the Jackson Lumber Company, at Lockhart, Ala., on the charge of peonage, was begun yesterday, before United States Commissioner Marsh. Harry Lyman of New York made oath that he had been given 20 lashes with a rawhide for attempting to get away after having been run down with bloodhounds, and an additional 20 because he would not plead for mercy.

The hearing will be resumed today.

WANTED TO CATCH A TRAIN.

Woman Pushes Motorman From Platform and Speeds Car.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Passengers on a south-bound Halsted street car were panic stricken yesterday, when a woman pushed the motorman from the front platform and ran the car at high speed for nearly a mile. No stops were made for passengers to get on or off, and the car collided with coal wagons and other vehicles along the route. Several women in the car, thinking that an insane person was at the lever, became hysterical and had to be held by the male passengers to prevent them from leaping to the street.

The woman who caused the terror and excitement was Mrs. H. H. Childester, of Evergreen Park, 14 miles southwest of Chicago. She wanted to catch a Grand Trunk train at the Halsted and Forty-ninth street station. The conductor, assisted by several men passengers, overpowered her after she had run the car six blocks and took her to the Halsted street police station, Forty-seventh and Halsted streets. She convinced the police that she was not insane and was released.

WILL OF WILLIAM H. HENDERSON.

Provision for Home for Aged Men in This City.

Probability That Value of Estate May Not Permit Payment of Bequests for Ten Years.

The recent death of Mrs. Mary G. Henderson, widow of William H. Henderson of Providence and formerly of this city, makes the will of the latter of interest to Newporters. Mr. Henderson was for years connected with the American Screw Company of Providence, and made some money, which he disposed of by will. He died February 3, 1897, and the will was probated in Providence March 2, 1897, the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company being made executor. The will provided for his wife enjoying the income of the estate during her life and after her death certain bequests were to be in force. In the following summary the bequests to individuals and to various institutions are given briefly, but that portion of the will relating to the Henderson Home for Aged Men is given in the words of the will. The bequests are:

To Mary R. Read and Sarah R. Gardiner, of Providence, daughters of Francis Read, $100 each.

To my nephew, William H. Henderson, 2d., my gold watch and chain.

To the Island Cemetery Company, Newport, $1,500 for the care of his two lots in the Island cemetery and of the

To his wife, Mary W. Henderson,

To his wife, Mary G. Henderson, during her life time all household furniture, books, pictures, etc., with power to dispose of any but the oil paintings.

All the rest of the estate in trust to the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company as trustee, to handle and manage, paying the income to his wife during her lifetime and paying also an income to his brother Robert.

On the death of his wife, to sell the oil paintings and other personal property remaining undisposed of and add the proceeds to the estate and then:

First, to pay to said Mary R. Read, if alive, $100 more; to his friend and neighbor, Mary Eliza Blundell, if alive, $1,500, and to his friend, William A. Cranston, $1,500, in recognition of kind services to his wife and himself.

Second—To set apart $20,000, the income thereof, to the extent of $1,000 a year, to be paid to his brother during life and to his widow as long as she survives him, any surplus income to go to the fund for the Henderson Home for Aged Men hereinafter provided for, and any deficiency in income in any year to be made up from the surplus of any other year.

On the death of his brother and wife the income of one half this sum to be paid to his nephew, William H. Henderson, 2d., and his children, the other half to his niece, Hope Isabelle Henderson.

On the death of his niece to pay $5,000 to Archie Coggeshall Goddard of Newport, son of his late niece, Mary Potter Goddard, and $5,000 to be held in trust for the additional use of his nephew, W. H. Henderson, 2d., and his children.

Third—To pay $1,000 to the Rhode Island Homeopathic Hospital, to establish a free bed, to be called the William H. and Mary G. Henderson free bed.

Fourth—To pay $5,000 to the Newport Artillery Company for the uses of said company.

Fifth—To pay $2,500 to the Unitarian Congregational Church in Newport (Channing Church), the net income of which to be used to support public worship in said church.

Sixth—To pay $1,000 to the First Congregational (Unitarian) Society in Providence, the net income to apply to the maintenance of the Sunday School of said society.

Seventh—To pay $2,000 to the Olney Street Congregational (Unitarian) Society in Providence, the net income to apply to the support of public worship by said society.

Eighth—To pay $3,000 to the Fourth Unitarian Society in Providence, the net income to apply toward the support of public worship by said society.

"But none of these foregoing legacies payable after the death of my wife (except that to said Mary R. Read, that to the Island Cemetery Company and those out of the fund of $20,000 set apart for my brother and his wife and my nephew and niece as aforesaid) shall be paid until the expiration of ten years after the death of my said wife, or if I should survive her, ten years after my death, unless the total value of my estate shall, within that time, in the judgment of my said trustees, be sufficient to pay the same and leave the sum of $125,000 for the Henderson Home for Aged Men hereinafter provided for."

"Tenth. And as to all the rest and residue of all said original trust estate, remaining in the hands and under the control of my said trustees at the death of my said wife, for my said trustees to stand seized of the same and all accumulations thereof and additions thereto, for the term of 21 years after the death of my said wife, or until within that term the same and its accumulations and additions shall amount to the sum of $125,000 at the par value of the securities in which the same shall for the time being be invested; with the powers of changing investments and of sale and re-investments hereinbefore granted; and for my said trustees, during the time aforesaid to keep the same, and the net income from time to time received therefrom (added to the principal in augmentation thereof) invested in safe and productive and good dividend or interest paying bonds, notes or securities of the United States, or of the New England states or of the cities or towns within the New England states.

And at the expiration of said term of 21 years, or at such earlier time as said fund shall reach $125,000 as aforesaid, for my said trustees to pay, convey, transfer and deliver over all said trust fund and estate, however then invested, to said city of Newport if the trusts hereinafter declared in respect thereof shall have been or shall be accepted by vote of the City Council of said city of Newport approved by the mayor thereof for the time being; but if said trusts shall not within three calendar months after notice in writing to the mayor for the time being of said city of Newport from my said trustees of their readiness to pay over said fund be so accepted, then for my said trustees to pay, convey, transfer and deliver over all said trust fund and estate to such other trustees as shall be appointed under these trusts by the supreme court of this state upon any proper proceedings had for that purpose, to be by said city of Newport, managing the same by commissioners, to be by said City Council from time to time appointed for this purpose as hereinafter provided, or by trustees appointed by the supreme court as aforesaid as the case may be, held in trust for the purposes following, viz: $25,000 thereof, if so much be needed for this purpose, to be used and applied in the purchase or erection of a suitable estate and building in said Newport to be used and maintained as a home for aged men of good moral character, who are unable to support themselves and to be called "The Henderson Home for Aged Men."

"And the residue thereof to be kept invested as aforesaid, with power from time to time to change the investments and reinvestments thereof as aforesaid, and the net income thereof to be used and applied to the support and maintenance, use and benefit of such home, and of the inmates thereof for the time being; such home to be under such written or printed regulations as said City Council, or said trustees for the time being, as the case may be, shall from time to time prescribe or approve, provided that such regulations shall at all times be kept on file or recorded in the city clerk's office in said Newport and shall be at all reasonable times open to public inspection; and, provided further that said commissioners, if the same be managed by commissioners as aforesaid, shall be annually elected by said City Council and that said commissioners, or trustees, as the case may be, shall serve without compensation, and shall keep full records of their proceedings, and full accounts of said trust fund in their hands or under their management for the time being, and of its investments and changes of investments, and of the disbursements therefrom, and the income thereof, and of its use and application in suitable books kept for these purposes, such books to be kept in such easily accessible office or place in said city of Newport as to be at all reasonable times open to public inspection.

The Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company was appointed executor without bond.

The will was signed April 29, 1895.

In a codicil dated December 4, 1896, the following changes in bequests were made:

To the Island Cemetery of Newport, $2,000 in trust in place of $1,500.

To Mary Eliza Blundell $500 instead of $1,500.

The bequest of $3,000 to the Fourth Unitarian Society in Providence is revoked.

To his housekeeper, Mrs. Sarah Jane Stanley, he leaves $250.

The estate at present is taxed for $86,500, from which must be deducted the $20,000 set aside for R. J. Henderson. According to the wording of the deed, and especially owing to the fact that the par and not the market value of stocks is to be considered, it is thought that the legacies cannot be paid until the lapse of the ten years provided in the will. These bequests must then be paid. It will then probably be 11 years more before the bequest for the Henderson Home for Aged Men will become available. It may be that the value of the estate will be sufficient to pay these bequests earlier and that the fund for the home may be available, that is, that it may amount to the required $125,000 before the expiration of 21 years, but according to those who are acquainted with the estate it will be a number of years before these bequests can be paid, according to the provisions of the will.

CHANGE IN ARMY RECRUITING RULES.

A general order has been issued at the War Department changing the system of recruiting in several important particulars. Hereafter men will not be enlisted at the regular recruiting offices in cities and towns where offices are established, but after they have been selected they will be sent to military posts for examination by the army surgeons before they are finally accepted. If the men are rejected they will be returned to their homes at the expense of the government. The new arrangement obviates the necessity of discharging men after they have been in the service for a short time, because of some physical defect.

A WATERMELON LUNCHEON.

Simple Entertainment Appropriate to the Season.

Serve Sherbet in Bowl Fashioned of the Rind—Line Relish Dishes with Leaves.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

Nothing in the way of a simple entertainment at this season for a restricted number of friends could be more appropriate than a watermelon luncheon. For the centrepiece border a circular mirror with moss and on it have a boat made of watermelon rind with a cargo of its diced heart or a few white asters. Line the relish dishes with melon leaves and fill them with olives and white radishes. The half melon left after fashioning the boat may have the pulp removed, the edge finished in points or scallops, and be utilized as a bowl in which to serve sherbet; until used it should be kept buried in chopped ice or in a pan of water that its crispness may not be lost. Caterers do such clever work nowadays that the ice cream can be made to represent a perfect melon. For simple favors nothing could be better than tiny cards illustrating "the nigger and the watermillyun." They may be in colors or simply pen and ink sketches.

Iced Watermelon.
Devilled Fish. Cucumber Sauce.
Broiled Chicken.
Green Peas. Stuffed Potatoes.
Watermelon Sherbet.
Tomatoes Stuffed with Watercress.
Mayonnaise. Cheese Wafers.
Melon Ice Cream. Fancy Cakes.
Coffee.

In preparing the melons for the first course cut them in thick slices, then, with a heart shaped or circular cutter, stamp out the pink pulp and serve three pieces to each person. The sherbet for the fourth course is simply water melon pulp crushed, made very sweet with sugar, three tablespoonfuls of sherry added for each quart, and then frozen.

For a luncheon of eight covers take one pint of any cold cooked white fleshed fish, measuring after it has been flaked and the skin and bones removed. Scald one cupful of milk, add one cupful of stale (not dried) white bread crumbs and stir for about two minutes, then remove from the fire. Add one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, the chopped yolks of three hard boiled eggs, a dash of cayenne, a quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika, one scant teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of onion juice. Mix thoroughly, then add the flaked fish. Fill the shells or individual dishes, cover with coarse bread crumbs which have been crisped and slightly colored in a little hot butter and heat in a quick oven. As a sauce pare and grate some large cucumbers, scraping out and discarding the seeds. Measure the pulp, to each cupful add a dash of cayenne, a half teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar. Deepen the color slightly with a very little green color paste.

Select small but plump broilers and allow a half chicken for each person. Brush well with melted butter, dust with salt and pepper and broil flesh side first; when almost done turn the skin side to the fire but be careful that it does not burn. Garnish the dish with tufts of fresh, crisp cress.

Three pints of shelled peas should be allowed for eight people. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add a scant teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of white pepper, a teaspoonful of sugar and the peas. Cover and shake over a hot fire for five minutes; add a half cupful of boiling water and draw to one side, where they will cook slowly until done; if young they will be ready in about 25 minutes.

Scrub and bake eight large potatoes. Halve carefully, scoop contents in a hot bowl, whip fine, adding three tablespoonfuls of hot cream, salt and pepper to taste; when light and smooth stir in carefully the stiffly whipped whites of four eggs. Heap this in the skins, lay them on a flat pan and put in a hot oven until golden brown.

Select large, round, firm tomatoes. Cut a piece from the stem end of each and scoop out the contents, then leave them for an hour to drain. Fill each with washed and dried fresh cress. Just before serving arrange each on lettuce leaves and pass with them cheese crackers and a dish of mayonnaise.

Make a rich cup batter and bake it in jelly cake pans. When cold cut in cubes or fancy shapes an inch or so in size. In a saucepan put one pint of granulated sugar and one cupful of boiling water. Stir until the sugar has dissolved, then boil steadily without stirring until a little dropped in a cup of very cold water can be rolled in a soft ball between the fingers. At once transfer the saucepan to a pan of cold water to check the boiling, then let stand until cool enough to bear the fingers. Stir slowly but steadily; it will soon cloud, then thicken. When it is like a soft dough scrape it out quickly and knead on a plate like bread dough until soft and pliable, then pack in a bowl. Take from this about half a cupful at a time. Place in a double boiler and stir constantly until the warm water underneath melts it to a thin icing; if not stirred it will change to a clear syrup. Add a few drops of flavoring and a little green coloring. Dip each piece of cake in this and lay on waxed paper until the icing is firm. This icing can be kept for a long time if in an air tight jar in a cool place.

(Passed April 19, 1906.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

CHAPTER 1342.

AN ACT Providing For the Licensing of Milk Dealers In Cities, and In Amendment of and In Addition to Chapter 147 of the General Laws, Entitled, "Of Milk."
(Passed April 19, 1906.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

Section 1. No person, firm, or corporation, as principal, servant, or agent, shall sell, exchange, or deliver, or have in his or its possession, care, custody, or control, with intent to sell, exchange, or deliver, in any manner whatsoever, milk, cream, or skimmed milk, within any city, unless such person, firm, or corporation shall have first obtained and have in force a license therefor from the board of aldermen of such city.

Sec. 2. The board of aldermen of such city may grant licenses to any person, firm, or corporation making written application therefor at the office of the inspector of milk of such city on printed form or forms provided for that purpose by such inspector of milk. Such application shall state the name, residence, and location of the business place or places of the applicant, the number and the description of each and every wagon, carriage, or other vehicle used by the applicant in the milk, cream, or skimmed milk business, and the names and residences of all persons from whom such applicant purchases any milk, cream, or skimmed milk. Any licensee hereunder shall at any time, on request of said inspector, give said inspector such information. All applications shall be signed by the applicant, and in case of corporations so applying the application shall be made by the treasurer or other duly authorized officer thereof, and the names of the officers of any corporation so applying, or to which such license is granted, shall be furnished in writing by such corporation to such inspector at any time on his request. The inspector of milk shall promptly present to said board of aldermen each such application, with his recommendations thereon in writing. All licenses issued shall expire on the first Monday of February next following the date of such license.

Sec. 3. The inspector of milk shall keep a record of all such licenses issued, including the name, residence, and place of business of each and every person to whom such license is issued and the date of issue and the date of license, and so much of section 5 of chapter 147 of the General Laws, entitled "Of milk," as requires milk dealers to register their names and places of business in the inspector's book shall not apply to such licensees. No person, firm, or corporation holding such license shall have power to transfer, sell, or assign such license. Such license shall not be required for a person acting as the servant or agent of a person, firm, or corporation having a license, but they shall record the names and residences of such servants and agents in the office of the inspector of milk. Any person, firm, or corporation licensed under the provisions of this act shall immediately cause to be and remain posted such license upon some conspicuous part of the room, place, or office in which the business is carried on.

Sec. 4. The board of aldermen of such city shall have the power at any time in their discretion, upon the complaint of the inspector of milk or of any other person, to revoke or suspend any such license for any violation of the provisions of said chapter 147 of the General Laws or of any act in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, or for any other good and sufficient cause, or when the interest of the public health demands it: Provided, however, that no such license shall be revoked or suspended until after said board of aldermen shall give the licensee five days' previous notice and an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel.

Sec. 5. Any person violating any provision of section one of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined for the first offence not less than fifteen dollars and not exceeding one hundred dollars, and for any subsequent offence not less than one hundred dollars or imprisonment not to exceed ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 6. Any town may at any time accept the aforegoing provisions of this act and any acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto by vote of the town council thereof and by filing in the office of the secretary of state a copy of such vote of acceptance duly certified by the town clerk thereof; whereupon this act, and all acts at any time in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, shall apply to such town for the purpose of granting and issuing such licenses, and at the expiration of thirty days from such filing shall wholly apply to such town for all purposes therein, and the town council thereof shall have all the powers conferred thereby upon the board of aldermen of any such city.

Sec. 7. Section 1 of said chapter 147 of the General Laws is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 1. All milk, cream, and skimmed milk shall be sold only by standard wine measure, and by or in measures, cans, jars, bottles, or other vessels or receptacles which shall, prior to being used in such sale, be sealed by the sealer of weights and measures of the town where the person so using the same shall usually reside in this state, or of the town where such milk shall be sold for use; and every person selling any of the same contrary to this section, or delivering any of the same sold contrary hereto, shall be fined for the first offence not less than fifty dollars and not exceeding one hundred dollars, and for any subsequent offence not less than one hundred dollars or imprisonment not to exceed ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment. Any purchaser of milk, cream, or skimmed milk having reason to believe that any measure, can, jar, bottle, or other vessel or receptacle in which milk, cream, or skimmed milk is sold and delivered to him is not of sufficient size or capacity to contain, by standard wine measure, the amount thereof purchased may apply to the sealer of weights and measures of the town in which such milk, cream, or skimmed milk is delivered to him, which sealer shall, upon the receipt of a fee of twenty-five cents therefor, test the capacity of the same and issue to such purchaser his certificate stating the capacity thereof; and if such capacity according to such certificate shall be less than the amount purchased, such purchaser may make complaint and deliver such certificate to any officer of such town authorized to make complaints for the violation of said chapter, who thereupon shall duly make complaint against and prosecute the person or persons selling or delivering the same for violation of this section."

Sec. 8. This act shall take effect upon its passage for the purpose of granting and issuing such licenses, and for all other purposes shall take effect from and after the first day of July, A. D. 1906.

I certify the foregoing to be true copies.

Attest, CHARLES P. BENNETT,
Secretary of State.

AWFUL PSORIASIS 35 YEARS

Terrible Scaly Humor in Patches All Over the Body—Skin Cracked and Bleeding—Itching Unbearable—Cured by Cuticura in Thirty Days at Cost of $4.75.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I was afflicted with psoriasis for thirty-five years. It was in patches all over my body. I used three cakes of Soap, six boxes Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. I bathed with the Soap, applied the Ointment once a day, and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I think permanently, as it was about five years ago.

"The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center a spot about the size of a silver dollar of sound flesh. In a short time the affected circle would form a heavy dry scale of a white silvery appearance and would gradually drop off. To remove the entire scales by bathing or using oil to soften them the flesh would be perfectly raw, and a light discharge of bloody substance would ooze out. That scaly crust would form again in twenty-four hours. It was worse on my arms and limbs, although it was in spots all over my body, also on my scalp. If I let the scales remain too long without removing by bath or otherwise, the skin would crack and bleed. I suffered intense itching, worse at nights after getting warm in bed, or blood warm by exercise, when it would be almost unbearable.

"To sum it all up, I would not go through such another ordeal of affliction for thirty-five years for the State of Kansas. (signed) W. M. Chidester, Hutchinson, Kan., April 20, 1905."

MUTINY BREAKS OUT AT SVEABORG

Rebel Soldiers Get Possession by Fortress.

Outnumbered Loyal Troops and Hundreds Killed.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 31.—A serious mutiny has broken out in the great island-fortress of Sveaborg, which defends the sea approaches to Helsingfors. Since 10 o'clock last night there has been a heavy cannonade at the fortress, interspersed with volleys of rifle shooting. The sound of cheering among the soldiers was also distinctly audible in Helsingfors. It all indicated that fighting was in progress during the whole night between the mutineers and the loyal troops. It is impossible to reach the fortress, but it is said upon authority which is not doubted that there are several hundred dead and wounded.

The cause of the mutiny is reported to have been the death of a soldier in the battalions of sappers and miners. His comrades claimed that the death was due to ill treatment. They rose and were joined by the artillerymen. Together they outnumbered the loyal infantry troops, who supported their officers.

The infantry from the Skatudden barracks, which stands on the sea front in Helsingfors, were immediately ordered out. Two torpedo vessels, lying at anchorage off the city, thereupon opened with their rapid-firing guns against the barracks, shooting over the heads of the people gathered upon the sea front and causing a tremendous panic. The greatest excitement prevails, but the socialistic workmen and the Red Guard of Helsingfors were all highly elated over the outbreak. They threatened to take advantage of the situation and proclaim a general strike for the purpose of tying up the railroads. At the latest report the fortress at Sveaborg is completely in the hands of the mutineers.

HOLDS OFFICE BY FRAUD.

Committeeman Refuses to Resign, on Bryan's Request.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Judge Owen T. Thompson of Jacksonville, Ill., announced this afternoon that in a letter, dated July 17, William J. Bryan requested that Judge Thompson call upon Mr. Roger Sullivan, with a message from Mr. Bryan, requesting that Mr. Sullivan, in the interest of harmony, at once resigned as national committeeman from Illinois. Judge Thompson says he saw Mr. Sullivan today, and delivered Mr. Bryan's message. Mr. Sullivan declined to resign as requested. Judge Thompson thereupon made public a letter from Mr. Bryan, declaring that National Committeeman Sullivan holds the office by a fraud and that it is impossible for honest Democrats to associate with Mr. Sullivan as a member of the national committee.

TRADE WILL BE CLOSED

If Meat Packers Do Not Have Legal Label by October 1.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, today said that the meat inspection regulations had been well received by the packers and the trade generally. Most of the large and some country were putting their houses in order for he new dispensation, but many small establishments had so far failed even to apply for inspection.

"Many slaughters of food animals and preparers of meat food products which enter into interstate or foreign trade have apparently not realized that unless they have federal inspection and the legal label by October 1 their interstate and foreign trade will be closed" added Secretary Wilson. "It is not the desire to evade the law which causes certain dealers and firms to fail to arrange for inspection. It is rather a failure to grasp the fact that the law applies to all food products into which meat enters in whole or in part."

LARGEST CAMERA IN THE WORLD.

[Popular Mechanics Magazine.]

A camera, said to be three times as large as any other in the world, is owned by Professor G. R. Lawrence of Chicago. With it several noted pictures have been taken, including bird's eye views of factories and towns. It is also used for enlarging other pictures.

The body of the camera is nine feet four inches wide, six feet high and 20 feet long when fully extended and in its construction over 30 gallons of glue were used. The lens is 12 inches in diameter and cost $1,500. All moving parts, including the curtain slide, run on roller bearings. The focusing is done by two panels of glass, which can be moved to all parts of the field. The plateholder weighs nearly 500 pounds when loaded, and is put into the camera by means of a derrick. Great care is used in loading, as a broken plate would result in the loss of $150. The plates are made of plate glass, eight feet by four feet eight inches wide, and weigh over 200 pounds.

"In order to dust the plates, a man enters the camera through an opening in the front. A piece of ruby glass is then placed over the lens, and the slide in the plate-holder is withdrawn. After the plate has been dusted, the slide is replaced and the man steps out.

"In making enlargements, the focusing is done from the inside and the operator remains in the camera during the exposure. In this process the entire apparatus is supported by springs, which absorb any possible vibration."

A STORY OF MISDIRECTED ENERGY.

[Woman's Home Companion.]

Frances, a little girl of 13, was destined by her mother to be a fine musician. While still a little child she was taught to read the notes, and her tiny fingers were placed on the keyboard. Year in and year out the child was obliged to practice, and she acquired a measured amount of skill, but her playing was wooden and spiritless. In despair, her mother said to her: "What do you expect to be when you are grown up?" The girl sighed: "When I am grown up, mother, if I have a house of my own the first thing I shall do will be to order the piano chopped up for kindling wood. I want to be a doctor."

As time passed musical studies were dropped, and duly Frances went to the medical college. At last she was allowed liberty to grow in her own direction. She is a successful physician, treating nervous disorders with rare sympathy and understanding.

A TEST OF ICE.

The term "ice cold" always seems to signify a definite temperature. All water under similar conditions freezes at a certain definite temperature. But when the thermometer falls below that it continues to affect the ice, making it harder and colder. The test has been made by placing a piece of ice from the north and a piece of ice formed in this vicinity near a stove together. The former took much longer to melt than the latter.

CHURCH CEILING FALLS.

Faulty Construction Believed to be Responsible for Catastrophe.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 31.—The ceiling of the First Baptist Church, corner Haverhill and Amesbury streets, fell this morning about 6:25 o'clock, doing about $3,000 damage. Practically the entire ceiling, plastering and beams dropped, burying the pews under the debris and destroying the expensive chandelier, together with the pulpit furniture, and damaging the pews to a considerable extent. No one was in the church at the time.

Building Inspector J. J. Carry has ordered the building closed and will make an inspection. A commission consisting of Chief Rutter of the fire department, Chief Engineer Marble and a third man to be appointed by the building inspector, will also make an inspection in accordance with the state law.

The church was erected in 1853 and has been repaired from time to time. Inspector Carry finds that faulty construction was undoubtedly responsible for the falling of the ceiling, and has warned all persons not to enter the building.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 31.—United States Senator Charles Dick of Ohio and Elmer Dover, secretary of the Republican national committee, came here today for a two hours' conference with President Roosevelt. The Ohio political situation, in view of the forthcoming campaign, will be discussed.

Before going to Sagamore Hill Senator Dick said the political situation in Ohio was much better than it was two years ago. He predicted that two years hence Governor Harris would be nominated and elected.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS IN PHILIPPINES.

The Philippine commission has established in the islands a postal savings bank system in the Bureau of Posts under the direction of the Department of Commerce and Labor. Its act of May 24, 1906, directs the immediate creation of postal savings banks in the cities of Manila, Iloilo and Cebu, and the rapid extension of the system in the other cities, towns and villages. Of the three other classes of banks authorized the first may receive deposits in any amount, but sums in excess of 1,000 pesos, or $500 shall not bear interest. The commission has made several exceptions in favor of charitable and benevolent institutions. Deposits in the savings banks will not be subject to taxation by the insular government. They will be invested through the insular treasury into securities determined by a special board. Until practical experience shall demonstrate that a higher rate can be maintained, the rate of interest on deposits will be 2½ per cent.

A SUPPLY OF THREADED NEEDLES.

Elderly women who love to sew often have such poor sight that they cannot see to thread their needles. Let one of the younger members of the family thread a paper of needles by stringing them all on one thread as one would string beads. Then, when a needleful of thread is desired, simply take the first needle, and as much thread as is desired with it, pressing the other needles back against the spool and fastening them so that they will not fall off from the thread on which they are strung. This is better than to fill a cushion with threaded needles, because the loose threads are apt to become tangled.

NO OTHER WAY.

[Youth's Companion.]

A person of little tact once remarked to the octogenarian Auber: "What a sad thing it is, this old-age business."

"Yes," agreed the old musician, "it is sad. But," he added, with witty philosophy, "up to the present time no surer way has been discovered to live a long time."

Contentment.

That feeling of contentment which follows a good meal comes not alone from the quantity of the food; quality has more to do with it.

All the world admires a beautiful home. It is also a source of contentment. To make it of lasting beauty everything must be of the best quality. Don't forget this when purchasing your paint. The Colonial brand will bring about the results you are looking for.

AUGUST.

9315 Waiting at the Church,

Ada Jones

This is the much talked of song in English dialect sung by Vesta Victoria, the great English music hall singer, during her recent successful engagement at the New York vaudeville theatres. The music is by Henry E. Pether and the words by Fred. W. Leigh. The song relates the troubles of a young girl who had made all arrangements to be married and was waiting at the church when her lover sent word that he could not marry her, for his wife wouldn't let him. It is excellently sung, as are all of Miss Jones' Records.

IN A STRONG SOUTHWESTER.

Boats of the Newport Yacht Club Sail the Ninth of the Weekly Afternoon Races.

The ninth of the weekly afternoon races of the Newport Yacht Club was sailed Monday afternoon in what was undoubtedly the freshest blow that the little boats have faced this season. It was a regular smoky southwester when the boats just before 6 o'clock began preparations for a start by tying down one or more reefs, and the craft had all the spray they needed while manoeuvring about in the inner harbor, with a promise of more than was needed except for bathing purposes when they got outside. The wind, however, began to soften some after the race started, making it somewhat less disagreeable outside the Island than it had promised.

Before the race started the Conqueror which was out for a practice spin withdrew, as one of her stays was somewhat damaged, and Skipper Arnold James did not care to take any chances, and the J A C met with a mishap to her gaff which promised to put her out of the race. She was able to make temporary repairs that carried her nearly over the course before her gaff was again hanging, but she was able to finish. All the boats that started were able to finish without other mishaps than those noted showing that all the owners had their boats in first class condition.

The Pauline II did not finish, tying up at her moorings in the upper harbor, but not because she was disabled. The Vesper II made a great race of it finishing well in the lead, but not far enough to overcome the big handicap she had to give the Indian and the Madge, two much larger boats. The Madge and Indian had a great race for second place, the Madge finishing first by 16 seconds. The start was at 6:25 and the course the south southwest one. The finish and corrected time are as follows:

| Boat. Owner. | Finish. | Cor. Time |
|---|---|---|
| Indian, Arnold. | 7:08:01 | 40:2 |
| Madge, B & W. | 7:07:45 | 40:5 |

FLOTSAM AT LONG WHARF.

The strong southwest wind yesterday again piled an accumulation of material of all kinds against the wall of Long wharf. Again there was a superabundance of eel grass and more of the discards of yachts than it is pleasant to see. There were boxes of all sizes and of various materials, leaves from the trees on Halidon hill, pieces of wood which might have been intended for kindling, bottles, empty of course, paper, waste, pieces of fruit and vegetables, the remains of floral decorations, and other things. A glance at the floating material would convince any one that it was flotsam and did not come from a sewer.

EXCELLENT TENNIS IN MIXED DOUBLES.

The rain and wet weather of last week caused the indefinite postponement of one of the lawn tennis tournaments arranged to be played at the Casino, and the continued wet weather would have caused the postponement of the mixed doubles which were arranged to be started yesterday, were it not that the new dirt courts are available for play in any sort of weather, except a pouring rain, and they were used yesterday for the first time for a regular tournament. There were but four entries, and one match was played to a finish and the other decided by default, before one set was concluded.

In the former Mr. Williams P. Burden and Miss Margaret Busk were pitted against Mr. Craig Biddle and Mrs. Barger Wallach. The former won the first set, 8-6, the latter took the second 7-5, and the deciding set went to Mr. Burden and Miss Busk by a score of 6-1. The tennis was excellent and the score close and interesting throughout. In the other match Mr. Harold A. Sands and Miss Irene Sherman were pitted against Mr. Willing Spencer and Miss Edna Barger. Mr. Sands and Miss Sherman had the advantage of five games to two in the first set, when Mr. Sands turned his ankle and was compelled to default the match.

ISLAND PARK ATTRACTIONS.

The management of Island Park is planning an especially merry afternoon and evening at that resort this week. Hundreds are finding pleasure in the bathing and other facilities for enjoyment there, but Thursday they will have an especial attraction. In the afternoon there will be a tub race, a swimming race and a three-legged race for cash prizes. There will also be a greased pole, on the top of which will be placed a $2 bill, which will be the property of the person who first gets his hands on it. A prize waltz in the evening will add to the pleasure of the day.

NOVELTIES WELL PUT ON.

"The Mumming Birds" the Special Feature of the Freebody Park Program.

Freebody Park was not affected apparently by the fact that the minstrels were in town last night, for the box section had the largest attendance of the season, while the upper part of the house was practically filled. The bill this week is a strong one, made up of novel features artistically put on.

The program opens with The Gagnoux, jugglers and equilibrists, a man and woman with a great quantity of novel paraphernalia, who did their act in a graceful manner. Next come the Fetching Brothers, doing an old-time musical turn, but in such a manner that it seemed as if it were entirely new. The setting, a flower garden with the various instruments hidden in the flowers, was effective. The third number is Loa and Fay Durbeyelle, women shadographists, who have a pleasing act. The two, working in a strong light, set in the front and centre of the stage, cause shadow pictures to appear on the sheet in the rear; not only are forms shown, but animated scenes are pictured.

Following a short intermission Arthur, Mildred and Lenore Boylan in their sketch, "Jack and Jill," showed a finished piece of acting; the two first named are children, and carrying a larger part of the sketch proved juvenile wonders. Their French and negro dialect would have done credit to older actors, and later they showed ability as tumblers in their childish play. Gilday and Fox as Hebrew jesters gave an inoffensive turn in their line, which received applause for their stinging dialogue and nimble movements.

The sixth and last act is entitled "The Mumming Birds," and a group of English waitermen who were present were carried away with the truthfulness of the scene which they have seen so many times in the West End music halls, London. The scene was finely set, and proved not only the big feature advertised but also a funny act from beginning to end. The company was well dressed, showed great agility and perhaps would have shown some vocal powers had the audience not been so amused at the make-ups and actions. In the moving pictures this week are shown the Seven Ages, particularly fine in conception and make-up.

STAKING OUT THE GROUND.

First Circus Car Here and the Tents on the Way.

Layout of the Basin Lot Systematic—Amusement Men Looking for Great Crowds.

The first circus car for the Carnival grounds arrived yesterday, having on board the big top for the Society Circus. Promptly upon its arrival the work of staking out the grounds for its erection was begun, and car No. 2 with the seats may arrive today. Other cars with tents will be coming during the next few days and by Saturday evening it is probable that some of the side shows will be open to the public, in order that those who desire may come early and avoid the rush of next week.

Few probably who are not in the show business have any conception of what the tented village will look like next Sunday. Plans have been made for a layout of a magnitude which some places would consider a sufficient attraction for a week's holiday, and yet this is but a small part of the program which Newport is providing for the masses this year. When it is completed it will have the appearance of such a big settlement that the accompanying map of its layout seems to give promise of interest to the public.

Before a single space was sold the management of the concessions caused the lot to be surveyed and laid out so that when the various displays sought space they could be shown just what allotment had been made for them, and now as they begin to set up they must do so according to this plan. That there is not space enough on this large field to accommodate all the attractions which wished to come here the concessions committee well knows, for it has been quite overwhelmed with applications, both in person and by letter. This in one way has made it easier for the management, for it has been possible to make selections, and as a result it is believed the better class of attractions have been selected.

Some of the managers who have come here seeking space have been asked why they were so anxious to come to Newport, and their invariable reply has been that they noted the excellent advertising which had been given the Carnival, and this has been followed by great interest on the part of the crowds wherever they were showing, which to their minds was a sure sign as to which way the wind was blowing, and that Newport is to be the main objective point for New Englanders that week. With them it is business policy to be where the crowds are, and so Newport is their place if they can get in. There are many who could not be provided for, and they are sorrowing.

Some people who know something about these gala times believe that there is no better barometer as to where the crowds may be likely to centre on certain dates than these amusement managers, who depend so much upon the crowds to make their enterprises successful. It has been said that people are coming from all parts of New England, but from recent advices they are coming in large numbers from New York as well, for this celebration is well known there and some of the advance guard of these amusement hunters have already arrived, fearing that if they waited until later they would not find accommodations.

The distribution of thousands of Carnival Heralds, a rather more striking piece of advertising than the Guide, was begun in other cities yesterday. Few of these two publications have been put out in Newport, because it was believed that they would do more good outside of the city, where the daily press could not be expected to give so much attentions to the details of the week as the local papers have done.

Yesterday the work of decorating the city was begun in earnest, and in a few days it seems probable that the streets will be smothered in bunting. Thames street was getting the most of the color yesterday, yet other streets were not neglected. There are eight decorating establishments now installed here, and it will be a very few days before the man who has not decorated his building will find himself conspicuous, as was the case last year.

There have been some things said about the summer residents not taking any interest in the celebration, but as time goes on and checks are received from some of the more prominent ones this seems to be somewhat disproved. Yesterday a request was made at Carnival headquarters to send a supply of literature to a gathering place of society people, that they might acquaint themselves with the features of the week.

The work of preparing for the illumination of the Mall was begun yesterday afternoon, and this will be accomplished by festoons of vari-colored electric lights strung high in the trees.

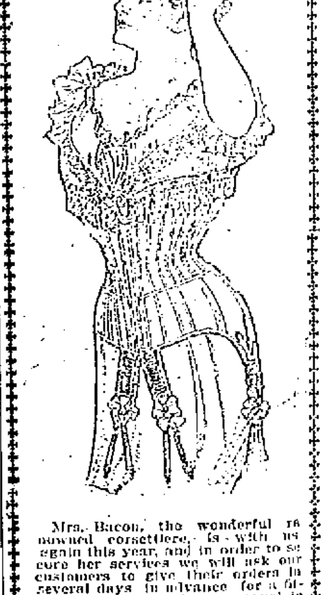
OF THE ONLY CORSET IN AMERICA.



Mrs. Bacon, the wonderful renowned corsetiere, is with us again this year, and in order to secure her services we will ask our customers to give their orders in several days in advance for a fitting. Mrs. Bacon has no equal in her business. Besides being accurate, she is extremely pleasant and obliging, and will rectify any mistakes. This corset is strictly made to order. Should you desire the top of one model and the bottom to another, she will see that this corset is made exactly as you desire. She also wishes it understood the corset is not a whalebone, but is double Illumfold, which will not break, bend or rust. The corset is made in 72 different models, and 37 different styles of fancy materials as well as plain cloth, also our corsets sell from $1.00 to $27.50. We generally give advice to our customers as to the best styles and prices to be fitted. We also wish to call attention to the singers who wear them, and stand ready to say so: Madam Schumann-Heink, May Irwin, Rose Coghlan, Fritz-Scheff and many others, which space will not allow. Mrs. L. W. Coudray will be pleased to have Mrs. Bacon call any morning which may be convenient for both parties. We ask you to call and talk with Mrs. Bacon, even though not intending to purchase, and oblige
